COURTS TO PASS ON RIGHTS OF CHILDREN OF JAPS

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 6.—A suit involving potential international complications was filed here yesterday in the name of the people of the State of California against Yukieji Harada, a Japanese, who has acquired a piece of property in a choice residence section on Lemon street.

This is the first action to be brought against a Japanese under the provisions of the alien land act of 1913.

The papers were filed in the superior court by Deputy Attorney Robert M. Clark, acting for Attorney-General U. S. Webb, and ex-Senator Miguel Estrada of this city.

The action is the climax of a series of efforts to oust Harada from the precincts of Fourth and Lemon streets, where he acquired a lot in December last for his minor children, who were born in the United States. Property owners in the vicinity raised a fund to buy the property from the Japanese, offering him a material advance over the price paid by him. The refusal of the offer has given rise to the supposition that the Japanese government may be back of Harada, and that every effort will be made to have the act declared unconstitutional.

The complaint states that at the time Harada bought the property he was an alien, a subject of the Imperial Japanese government, and that no treaty existed between the two countries whereby a subject of the empire could acquire land in this country. Therefore when the defendant acquired the property it escheated to the government of the State of California.

The complaint asks that the court adjudge that the property has escheated to the state, that it be ordered sold according to law, that Harada be declared to have no title in the property, and that a receiver be appointed.

Judge Clark said this was the first of a series of similar cases to be brought by the state. The action was taken, he said, at the suggestion of Gov. Hiram W. Johnson.

The named as co-defendants, of the three minor children, born in this country, Judge Clark said, was to test the spirit of the law as well as the letter. He said it was the theory of the state that the defense might be that the property had been transferred to the children, who, as American citizens, might be contended to have a right to hold the property.

A similar case was brought at Santa Barbara a year ago by the State against a Chinese. It has dragged through the courts since that time and trial of it has been delayed on various technical grounds.

The anti-alien law, Judge Clark explained, provides that if an alien heir might come into property in California, then the court shall escheat the property of such alien when inherited, sell it and distribute the proceeds to the heirs, instead of to the State. In the present case, if Harada should hold property legally, his heirs, the three minor children, could inherit because they are American citizens. It is the state's theory, however, that if the property was transferred to the children and they should die, then the father, an alien, would be their heir and under the law be entitled to receive the proceeds of the sale, although the law provides that property of an alien, acquired after the passage of the law shall be escheated—confiscated and sold, the proceeds going to the State. It is to clear up this point that the children were made co-defendants.

Many a "Grouch" Could Be Glad

Too often a person's disposition is blamed, when it is his digestion that is at fault. Some time when the world looks blue and dingy, when you feel an irresistible impulse to snap and snarl, when you feel dull and gloomy, stuffed up and uncomfortable—with a mean headache, bilious stomach, furred tongue—then take a Foley Cathartic Tablet.

If your bowels are sluggish, if your intestines are clogged with a decomposing poisonous mass, if you are not eliminating properly, this little tablet will afford prompt, sure and safe relief without griping, pain, nausea or costive effects.

Foley Cathartic Tablets are a genuinely wholesome physic—an ideal laxative. They keep the system fit and fine, purged of poisons, and ready to resist disease. Stout people say they have no equal for bringing a light and free feeling.

Sold by druggists everywhere. Distributed by Foley & Co., Chicago, makers of the celebrated Foley's Honey and Tar, for coughs and colds.

BOY SCOUTS OF SANTA ANA TO RENDER CITY SERVICE

The first real example of the organization and efficiency now represented in the Boy Scouts of Santa Ana will be seen in their work at the Elks' Carnival here next week. When the great carnival opens, fifty members of the Boy Scouts, in uniform, will be ready to perform the messenger service, the information service, and every other service that may be required of them during the days of the celebration.

Under the direct supervision of Marshal Jernigan, the scouts will do the tasks set for them, and others which they, themselves, may find to do. Santa Ana Boy Scouts find many things to do, and there is an initiative displayed among these boys of from 12 to 15 years of age that is hard to find elsewhere. When the carnival was first planned and the scoutmasters knew that the city would be filled to overflowing with crowds that would be difficult to handle in all ways, they realized that an opportunity was here afforded to give a practical demonstration of the real worth of this boys' organization to the city. Accordingly B. A. Elwing, who is assistant scoutmaster of the boys in the Congressional troop, appeared before the city council and offered the services of his organization. The council was not slow in accepting, and the boys were given permission to appear in uniform on the streets and about the grounds during the days of the carnival.

The following boys are among those who will render this free service to the city:

Congregational Troop
Rev. P. F. Schrock, scoutmaster; B. Elwing, assistant scoutmaster, and Scouts Donald Caul, Raymond Alder, William Elwing, Charles Etchinson, Frank Kellogg, Harold Kellogg, Dana Lamb, Howard McDonald, Archie Perkins, Franklin Nickey, Arthur Perkins, Herman Ranney, Larry Roehm, Erle Simon, Newell Stevens, Horace Strong, Gerald Thacker and Wilbur Pippis.

Baptist Troop
George L. Ash, scoutmaster; Walter Ferris, Earl Elliott, assist scoutmasters. Scouts Lloyd Jameson, Darold Meyers, Spencer Elliott, Henry Juden, Kemper Taylor, Clarence Freeman, Tommie Doerr, Monroe Champion, Ivan Elliott, Arthur Ashman, Fred Buckley, Theodore Ashman, Geo. Ashman, Arthur Heard, David Metz, Dalton Cleland, Donald Juden, William Noble, Frederick Wright, Edgar West morland.

NEWS FROM CO. L

PORT HAUCHAUC RIFLE RANGE, Sept. 30.—We are still at the rifle range, and the men are all through shooting and some very good records were made by the boys of Company L.

In shooting the instruction and record course it took a little over two days to shoot out the rounds, there being four companies on the range at a time. The range consisted of ten targets, and was a fair range to shoot on and had the light been more favorable there would have been some better records made and more of the company would have qualified for medals.

When the finals came off and were over with it was found that First Lieutenant Ford and Private Ear, Coleman were tied for first honors with a score of 213 out of a possible 250. By doing this these two men won the honor of being the only two expert riflemen in the company. Lieutenant Ford's high score was made on the 200-yard rapid fire, his score being 46 out of a possible 50 and his low score being 40, made on the 300-yard slow fire.

Private Coleman's high score was also made on the 200-yard rapid fire, he making 48 out of a possible 50, besting the lieutenant by two points. His low score was made on the 300-yard rapid fire, making 37 out of a possible 50. The lieutenant bested him on this range by six points.

The high man of the nine sharpshooters was Private Dana Keech with a total of 204 out of a possible 250. Keech's high score was made on the 200-yard rapid fire, his score being 47 out of 50 and his low score 32, made on the 600-yard range. Sergeant Walton and Private Rochester ended up with a tie for fourth place. Both annexed the score of 199. They were followed closely by Private Deaver with 198. He in turn was followed closely by Corporal King with 195, Privates Ritner and Pippis with 193, Wright with 191 and Sturdevant with 190. The rest of the men were all marksmen, headed by First Sergeant Pease with 188.

Out of the company there were twenty-three men who earned medals, the highest score being 213 and the lowest score 160.

There were several of the men who missed being in the finals by three and four points, and as a whole Company L made as good a showing as any company so far, and Captain Holderman is proud of his men.

While the men were on the range shooting the finals, Cook Trevonnien, who was one of the men in the finals, was forced to look for a substitute and found one in Private H. G. Frye, who proved to be a very able substitute, and was complimented by all the men for his efforts to satisfy them.

This morning was inspection, and as usual, we passed a very good inspection. We take great pride in this as we have a reputation for doing that and we have to keep it up.

Sergeant Frank M. Walton left us this morning for home on the expiration of his term of enlistment. We hate to lose Sergeant Walton, as he was a soldier from the ground up.

From all appearances the old Seventh Regiment is the best in the camp at Nogales, as all of the instructors have passed on the drilling of all the guardsmen and the papers all say that the Seventh California is the best in camp.

By the reports that are circulating around the camp the California troops expect to break camp by the 20th of next month for California. If so, they will go to Sacramento to be mustered out and then will be distributed to their various home stations.

All the boys are well and send their best wishes to the people of Santa Ana and vicinity.

HARBISON CAMPAIGNS IN RIVERSIDE COUNTY

Riverside Press: R. C. Harbison, Republican nominee for Congress, accompanied by Maurice Griffin, secretary of the Republican county committee, is spending today and tomorrow visiting towns in Riverside county. He is in the Hemet-San Jacinto section today and will visit other parts of the county on Friday. No public meetings are being held but Mr. Harbison is proving a real expert as a personal campaigner.

S. C. Evans, nominee for the State Senate, will join Mr. Harbison tomorrow and the two will certainly make a strong team.

Mr. Harbison reports good all over the district, and incidentally he spoke with enthusiasm over the outlook for the success of the dry amendments.

Adopts "8 to 1" Test

A county ordinance, extending the orange test of "8 to 1" to all orange shipments from Fresno county, has been passed by the Board of Supervisors of that county. The government last year adopted an "8 to 1" test for oranges for interstate shipments. The Fresno county ordinance now applies this federal rule to all local orange shipments. The ordinance was passed at the request of orange growers of the lower San Joaquin valley.

FIX 12 TONS AS MAXIMUM

Schumacher and McPhee Represent County At Truck Load Conference

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 6.—Fixing 24,000 pounds as the maximum weight for a motor vehicle, including load, and naming other restrictions designed to preserve the good roads of this section of the state, a special committee representative of official and commercial bodies yesterday drew the outlines of an ordinance to be proposed for adoption in the seven counties and all the cities of Southern California. County Counsel Haas is to draft the ordinance, which will be recommended to a larger committee recently created at an unofficial conference at San Bernardino.

At yesterday's meeting Supervisor Schumacher and County Sealer McPhee represented Orange county.

This committee adopted as the basis of the proposed ordinance a bill introduced at the last session of the Legislature as Assembly Bill No. 744, but the conference reduced the maximum limit for the weight of a motor vehicle and its load, which was fixed at 30,000 pounds in the proposed state law.

These recommendations were also adopted:

That motor vehicles be not permitted to draw trailers that have metal tires.

That the load any trailer may carry be limited to three and a half tons, including the weight of the vehicle.

That no motor vehicle be permitted to draw more than one trailer.

That all solid-tire vehicles of a weight of 6000 pounds or more, load and vehicle included, be limited to a speed of not more than twenty miles an hour.

That the width of motor vehicles and trailers be limited to eight feet.

This last restriction was included because the paved or surfaced portions of most Southern California highways are ordinarily only fifteen to sixteen feet wide, and a vehicle wider than eight feet becomes an obstacle.

The ordinance so outlined will be submitted to the committee for ratification at a meeting to be called by Supervisor Hinchaw, chairman of the larger committee.

This committee was named about a fortnight ago, when officials and representative citizens of the seven southern counties met at San Bernardino, at the invitation of the supervisors of that county. The conference was called to plan legislation designed to protect the roads from wear and tear by heavy trucks. It is proposed that one ordinance be adopted in all Southern California jurisdictions, for the convenience of motorists.

Gentlemen:

I am the President of the Dragon Mining & Development Company, whose mining property is located near Wickenburg, Arizona, and as a stockholder therein, have large interests. I don't usually invest in mining properties but I became interested in this because the property was located in a very favorable district. The men from whom the Company obtained the mine were reliable and experienced mining men and had done sufficient development work to show the indications. The mines were entirely free from debt, and the reports of these indications presented to my mind one of the best mining propositions that I had ever considered.

I visited the mines on August 26, 1916, and made a thorough investigation of the property and inquired from every one as to the formation and locality. I found the representation as to the development work to be absolutely correct. The machinery is on the ground, set up, and everything now ready to begin operations, and I took a number of photographs of the physical property. I examined the shafts, tunnels, drifts, and so forth, and the indication of ore, and am thoroughly convinced from what I saw and from what everyone told me that the Company undoubtedly has a valuable mining property, and that with a comparatively small amount of work, it will be a proven mine. All machinery has been paid for and there is no debt against the Company other than small current bills, and the Company has money in the Treasury to meet all these and carry on the work for some time. Every dollar that the Company raises from the sale of stock will be applied to the development of the property. The officers receive no salaries and we are not offering the stock of the Company on margins nor at a fixed price to the brokers but it is for sale on a legitimate commission basis. This is not intended as a stock jobbing proposition but as a bona fide mining business, and we propose to conduct it on business principles and to see that every dollar is honestly and legitimately applied for the benefit of the Company. Furthermore the Company is not overloaded with promotion stock and all shares of stock issued in payment of the property will be held in pool and not placed upon the market until the Company has been financed sufficiently to carry on its development work.

I will be glad to furnish you any more specific information upon inquiry.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) JAMES G. SCARBOROUGH.

HORSES FROM ORANGE ARE IN THE TRENCHES

ORANGE, Oct. 6.—There are no Orange men in the European war zone, but undoubtedly some Orange horses are straining at heavy guns of French and British batteries today.

According to E. G. Stinson, local contractor and tractor dealer, over 200 horses have been sold to the French artillery from this vicinity in the past eight months.

"I have sold a great many myself," said Mr. Stinson, "and undoubtedly, the Santa Ana buyers have bought many in this section."

"The French buyers are stripping the country of horses. The other day I saw 900 in one bunch ready for shipment. They are bought by the Los Angeles dealers and inspected by French officers."

IDEAL GAS FURNACE

This furnace burns city gas for fuel and is so constructed that the hot gas is compelled to travel a long distance, over heavy sheet iron surfaces, before it escapes. These surfaces extract all of the heat from the gas, so that when the fumes escape to the chimney, the heat has been extracted and the waste pipe is the coolest on the furnace. This is just the reverse of other furnaces, where the smoke pipe is the hottest. The radiated heat is mixed with fresh air and delivered in the house in the usual manner. This heated air is fresh, pure and entirely free from gas fumes and is heated to a temperature that causes it to travel readily. For sale by

MEN WILL GET BONUS COMING FEBRUARY

Much Interest In Oil Fields In Company's Gasoline Process Extracting

BREA, Oct. 6.—That the employees of the Union Oil Co. will share in the profits of the company this coming February is now an assured fact. Two months ago an announcement from the head office of the company at Los Angeles stated that the company would allow its employees to share in the company's profits, the amount each employee is to receive to be based on the length of service. The amount of the fund to be set aside for payment to the employees will be determined upon the net profits of the company for the past year. At the present time it seems quite probable that the employees will receive a ten per cent dividend, i. e. ten per cent of the sum of the total wages earned during the past year. The opportunity for the employees to share in the profits of the company is thoroughly appreciated by every one of the 3,000 employees, and shows that the big oil corporation is not heartless.

The National Products Company has about completed its plant for the making of casing head gasoline, turned the gas into the new lines today and will test them out thoroughly before starting the plant. The National Products Company is using a new and secret process, known as the absorption method of making gasoline. The process has never been used in the west, and is being watched with considerable interest by all oilmen of the state. The officials of the National Products Company claim excellent results for the method, and if successful there may have something to do with the price of gasoline.

H. A. Delaney and wife have returned from a three months' vacation trip spent in travel through the eastern states. The Delaneys visited New York and Ohio. Delaney is back at his old place, drilling for the Union Oil Company on the Hole property.

The Birch Oil Company has sold the gas system supplying the city of Brea and near-by communities to the Southern Gas Company. The purchase price was $10,590.66. A fixed rate will be charged the consumers and many new improvements in the system made.

Much attention and speculation is being aroused over the work of two employees of the Union Oil Company, who, for the past three months have been working on a machine, that if successful, will revolutionize mining to quite an extent. Messrs. Sweet and Ingram have perfected plans for a machine that will, they think, save practically all the mineral in the tungsten ores. The machine is a dry concentrator and will save the small particles of gold, silver and tungsten. The inventors claim that the machine will save 90 per cent of the mineral of high grade ores and 75 per cent of value of the low grade ores will be extracted. The men will take the new device out to Atolia and give it a try-out.

The attendance at the Brea Grammar school in the primary grade has increased to such an extent that the principal found it necessary to divide the larger class into two sections. The number of first graders reached 50, an unprecedented number. This arrangement will care for the primary department until the new building is ready for occupancy.

Victor Haulde, one of the largest ranchers in this part of Orange County, is busy picking and packing a very fine tomato crop. The tomatoes are being packed in 40-pound cartons and make an attractive marketing product.

Guy Hatfield, former development foreman for the Union Oil Company, on the Stearns lease, now in the same capacity for the same company in the Santa Maria district, was a visitor here early in the week, and a special guest of A. H. Brown, foreman of production.

Bert Albertson, an old time employee of the Union Oil Company, resigned his place with the development department and is now associated with the Graham-Loftis Oil Company at Gilroy.

W. P. Huffman, employed by the Union on the Graham-Loftis lease, was suddenly stricken with a severe case of ptomaine poisoning, and for some little time it required all the available medical aid to save the unfortunate man from death. The cause of the poisoning is not known.

IMMIGRATION LAWS FAILURE SAYS LABOR

EUREKA, Oct. 5.—Japanese labor was boycotted and the immigration laws criticised in resolutions here at the convention of the California Federation of Labor.

One resolution introduced by Socialistic members declared the immigration laws failures. Another introduced declared for common ownership of industries and the employment of American citizens only, as a means of stopping immigration.

Both resolutions followed the adoption at the morning session of a resolution decrying employment of Japanese in California. Similar resolutions have been adopted by the convention for the last six years.

D. C. Murphy, president of the San Francisco Labor Council, was nominated president of the Federation. Paul Scharenburg, San Francisco, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

It is reported that a resolution is being prepared calling for the organization of a union of Japanese workers in California, which will be separate from other unions, yet backed by the State Federation.

FRENCH AVIATORS TAKE BIG TOLL OF ENEMY

BY HENRY WOOD

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
PARIS, Sept. 22 (by mail).—France's eleven star aviators or "aces," as they are known in France, have "officially" brought down on less than ninety-two German machines as their combined "bag."

This number would easily reach 150 if there were included the German flyers that have also been brought down by them "unofficially." The French government only credits its aviators with the machines that are brought down within the French lines so that it can be "officially" established that neither the machine nor the pilots can ever again serve the enemy.

In addition to these "official" kills each of the aviators included in France's list of eleven "aces" has brought down not less than two and some as many as seven machines that have fallen within the German lines and for which they are consequently not given "official" credit.

The eleven "aces" and their "official" records of machines brought down are as follows:

Aviator	Machines
Navarre	14
Guyonmer	14
Chungesser	11
Chaput	8
Chaintreuil	8
Dorme	8
Deullin	7
Lenoir	7
Hughes de Rochefort	5
Henrietaux	5
Hubert de la Tour	5

Total 92
In addition, several of the above aviators also have a number of German "sausages" (observation balloons) to their credit, but as these are not able to fight when attacked the French aviators do not count them among their "kills."

'KELPITIS' ATTACKS WORKERS IN KELP

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—"Kelpitis" or "something like that," is the name given by doctors for a mysterious irritation which has appeared recently on the bodies of workers in the kelp-butch industry off the coast of San Diego, according to O. L. Lund, a kelp reaper who has returned to San Francisco.

"After two weeks on the reapers," said Lund, "we found our legs and arms swelling painfully. We were forced to quit and go ashore. The doctors did not seem to know what it was, but after a week ashore the swelling disappeared. The doctors have coined a scientific name for the disease that sounds like 'kelpitis'."

CASTOFFS WILL LEAD OFF WITH BIG LAUGH

BY H. C. HAMILTON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Another bunch of castoffs are getting their faces ready for a loud, hearty laugh at the castoff.

Fred Markie, Chief Meyers and Rube Marquard are going to have the chuckle of their lives when the world's series is over and they have time to think how they kicked off a team they had helped win several National league championships. Adding them in their guifaws will be Mike Mowrey, Larry Cheney and Jack Coombs.

Every one of these players was adjudged "done" some time ago. The props were knocked from under Meyers and Marquard by John McGraw in 1915. Meyers finished the season with the Giants, but Rube drifted to Robinson at the waiver price while the 1915 Giants still were struggling toward a lamentable finish.

"Had to break up the old team," said McGraw when he traded Markie for Lew McCarty last August. Fred is going to get some more of that world's series dough when the Dodgers and Red Sox get together.

Jack Coombs drew his unconditional release in 1914 when Connie Mack picked up his trusty ax and began separating his Athletics from their Philadelphia jobs. Jack landed in Brooklyn and there never was a more sensational comeback than he has shown the Brooklyn fans. Quite a nice little thing for his declining days will be his slice at the world's series cash.

Mowrey, wayward though he was, is back with the gang. He never had a chance at world's series money before, but he's ready to take a pocketful this year after having been dropped by St. Louis and Pittsburgh. Mike is quite a discard, they claim in Brooklyn.

In Boston Jack Berry is going to hold the distinction this year of being the only player who ever took part in six world's series. Jack was sold by Connie Mack back in 1915 and had a split in the receipts of last year's big games. He was a big factor in winning pennants in Philadelphia when with the old Athletics.

Jimmy Walsh also is going to taste the fruits of being transferred from the Athletics. Walsh now is drawing a Red Sox pay check and will draw one from the national commission when the title games have been played.

HOW TO BE SLIM

- * If you are too fat and want to reduce your weight 15 or 20 pounds, don't starve and weaken your system, or think you must always be laughed at on account of your fat, but go to Rowley Drug Co. or any good druggist, and get a box of Oil of Koren capsules, take one after each meal and one before retiring at night.
- * Weigh yourself once a week and note what a pleasant and reliable method this is for removing superfluous fat from any part of the body.
- * It costs little, is absolutely harmless and a week's trial should convince anyone that it is unnecessary to be burdened with even a single pound of unsightly fat.

LOUISIANA TO START WHEELS OCTOBER 15TH

Prospects Point to a Bumper Yield In New Orleans Section

A dispatch from New Orleans, La., says that prominent planters have announced their intention to start grinding on October 15. Others say that preparations are being made to begin the campaign within a short time afterward. Prospects point to a bumper yield and the more optimistic express the opinion that the crop will total much more than 250,000 tons. This view is not generally shared in, however, by those who point out the fact that the acreage increase, according to the government's figures, was barely more than 15 per cent over that of 1915.

So far no definite arrangement has been effected for the disposition of the raw crop. At the meeting of the sugar producers of the state, held in New Orleans, a tentative offer from Earl D. Babst, president of the American, to take 100,000 tons of Louisiana 96 degree test from 15 to 20 points under the average New York price for ten years prior to the date of sale here, accompanied by a proposition understood to be an attempt to compromise the pending damage suits on the basis of 15 of 1 per cent of the damages claimed, was rejected.

Mr. Babst was advised of the action taken by wire and replied that he would be willing to entertain any suggestions that the planters might care to make. The committee of five appointed to make a counter proposal is now engaged in devising some plan to suggest to the American. It is possible that the committee, or at least some members of it, may go to New York to present their suggestions in person.

Whatever is done in the matter of the damage suits, the producers at their meeting decided must not be conditioned, or form a part of any marketing agreement that may be reached. At the meeting the desirability of reviving last year's selling committee was also discussed and it is probable that some sort of organization will be effected to handle any surplus over whatever amount is taken by the American, or the whole raw crop if the present pending negotiations fail.

As the situation now looks, however, it seems that the difference between the planters and the American will be adjusted. At least those close in touch with developments say that the outlook is now more favorable for reaching a conclusion than at any time since the suits were first filed.

The weather has been generally favorable for the growing crop and reports from all sections are promising.

SUGAR CONSUMPTION OF JAPAN REPORTED

The following information is extracted from the latest report of one of our Japanese correspondents, says Willett & Gray. The consumption of sugar in Japan and Formosa together is generally figured as follows:

	Tons.
Refined sugar	101,190
Centrifugals (raw)	77,380
Molasses sugar	26,790
Native dark brown sugar, produced in Ryuku Island, etc.	60,000
Other sugars, say Manila or Formosa native brown sugar	32,738

Total home consumption . . . 298,098
For the refined sugar Japan has nine refineries, with a combined normal output of 383,325 tons, and she also has 20,830 tons of the white plant.

A New Remedy for Kidney, Bladder & all Uric-Acid Troubles

Successfully Used by Many Physicians and Surgeons in Their Hospital Practice.

Dr. Weir Mitchell once said: "What we call disease are only symptoms of conditions. Allow the man's vitality to be reduced to a certain point, and he is ripe for any of these weaknesses, or certain conditions which we call disease." Thru failure of kidneys to act, thru congestion, inflammation, any person's condition is ripe for disease to fasten its hold upon the system.

At Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., there has been tested for the past few years a new remedy for kidney, bladder, uric acid, troubles, rheumatism, gout, and such ailments as follow, and so many cases both acute and stubborn have yielded to this wonderful remedy that Doctor Pierce decided to name it "An-Uric," and arrange for its distribution to the public through medicine dealers everywhere.

If backache, scalding urine or frequent urination bother or distress you, or if uric acid in the blood has caused rheumatism, gout or sciatica, if you suspect that you have kidney or bladder trouble, write Doctor Pierce, at Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., send a sample of urine, and describe symptoms. A physician and chemist will examine it without charge and you will be under no obligation whatever. These "An-Uric" Tablets cannot fail to help you, because their action flushes the kidneys of impurities and puts strength into them.

Obtain a 50-cent box of these tablets to-day from your druggist here in town. From personal observation in large hospital practice, Doctor Pierce knows these tablets will give you speedy help if you are suffering from uric acid trouble, and to show his sincere faith this prescription is sold under a positive guarantee to any person who has taken a full box and has not been helped.

SUGAR PRICES LIFTED

For no especial reason sugar refiners have boosted prices another 2 cents a hundred pounds for all grades. There was an advance of 15 cents yesterday and another 10 cents will be tacked to quotations today. On the new basis beet granulated sells for $7.30 a hundred pounds and standard cane and berry for $7.50. The rising market in sugar is attributed to the activities of the trust and it looks as if prices will be exceptionally high during the coming winter months.

tation sugar produced in Formosa, total of which amounts to 404,155 tons. Of these nominal outturns, say 404,155 tons, Japan requires only some 101,190 tons for home consumption, the balance of which, i. e., 302,965 tons, may be exported to foreign countries, inclusive of Korea, is generally from 77,380 tons to 107,150 tons at present, which reserves from 195,815 tons to 225,585 tons of capacities for the further exports.

The Formosan crop is 238,298,000 tons nominally, and the next year's crop, which begins from November, is estimated at 312,480 tons, exclusive of the native brown sugar, from which the raw sugar to be made into refined for the Home consumption, amounting to 101,190 tons. The centrifugals for the home consumption . . . 77,380 tons. And the molasses sugar for the home consumption . . . 26,790 tons. A total of . . . 205,360 tons must be deducted and the balance, some 107,120 tons, may be exported either in the raw or the white or the refined sugar state. If this balance is exported in the raw or the white sugar state, totally or partially, it must be remembered that the refined sugar to be exported from the home land must be manufactured from so much imported sugar, chiefly the Javan sugar, on which the customs regulations allow a drawback to the amount of the duty.

BET SUGAR ON MARKET

One factor that has received less attention than it deserves in the extensive comment upon the somewhat perplexing course of the current market is the influence of the beet sugar crop, says Facts About Sugar, printed in New York. California factories are now in practically full swing working up the season's growth of beets in that state. While the presence of the sugar thus actually produced has been confined chiefly to local markets, reports from correspondents of Facts About Sugar in the middle west indicate that several hundred thousand bags of new crop beet sugar have been sold in that territory. The experience of recent years suggests that alert sugar men that the influence of this movement may be felt further east within a short time.

Ever since the beet sugar crop of the United States attained proportions that made it a factor in market conditions, the decline in price attending its appearance upon the market in competition with the offerings of the seaboard refineries has been a yearly recurring phenomenon at about this season. Strangely enough, however, it is a factor which many of those who attempt to pass judgment upon conditions from year to year frequently leave out of account.

GLENDAL FACTORY SOLD

STOCKTON, Cal., Sept. 7.—It is reported here that the owners of the beet factory at Glendale, Arizona, have accepted the offer made to them by local capitalists behind the project to install a beet factory in Stockton and that plant will be removed to this city in time to operate during the 1917 campaign.

SWITZERLAND SITUATION

There is much concern in Switzerland over the sugar situation. Before the outbreak of the European war the country's needs were supplied almost entirely by the German and Austrian beet sugar refineries, but these sources have been suddenly closed to the Swiss. The Germans and Austrians have demanded certain commodities in compensation for their sugar. Switzerland was therefore forced to import sugar from North and South America at more than double the cost of German and Austrian sugar.

IMPROVEMENTS MADE

There is evidence on every hand of the fact that the Louisiana planters are spending a good deal of money in repairing the machinery of their factories and in buying new machinery. Quite a number of new mills are being installed and there seems to be a general tendency toward the improvement of the fuel burning portions of a great many factories. A large number of shaking grates are being installed, some with steam jet blowers. It is noticeable also that in many cases the grate area for burning bagasse is being reduced, this is doubtless a step in the right direction. At least two centrifugal bailer feed pumps have been installed. In one large factory a centrifugal pump is being installed to supply injection water for the condenser, also several Searby shredders are being installed in connection with milling plants.

L. A. BUSINESS MAN DROPS DEAD AT VENICE

VENICE, Oct. 6.—Charles W. Damerel, for the last thirty-one years active in the building up of Southern California, died suddenly of heart failure on a street corner in Venice last night, while about to start on a visit to his sister in Covina. He was 63 years old and a native of Rochester, N. Y.

Mr. Damerel was long connected with the firm of Cass-Smurr-Damerel of Los Angeles. He retired from active participation in the business two years ago, but still had large interests in realty and other lines in and around Los Angeles and Santa Monica Bay. He was prominent in Masonic circles, and was a member of Ocean Park Lodge, F and A. M. He was interested also in politics.

HIGHWAY WORK IN THE NATION IS INCREASING

Washington Report Shows Advancement Made In the Year 1915

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 6.—Rapid increase in total expenditures for roads and bridges, growth of building and maintenance activities under state supervision, and a sharp decrease in the proportion of contributions in the form of statute labor mark the development of highway work in the United States during the past twelve years. These facts were brought out by statistics for the calendar year 1915 recently compiled by the Office of Public Roads and Rural Engineering of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The total length of public roads in the United States outside the limits of incorporated towns and cities was about 2,452,000 miles on January 1, 1915. Of this, about 277,000 miles, or 11.3 per cent, were improved with some form of surfacing. The mileage of surfaced roads has been increased at the rate of about 16,000 miles a year, and in 1915 approximately one-half of this increase was made under the supervision of state highway departments. In addition these departments supervised the maintenance of nearly 52,000 miles of main and trunk line roads.

The increase in expenditures for road and bridge work in the United States has been from approximately $80,000,000 per year in 1904 to about $282,000,000 in 1915, an increase of more than 250 per cent. The expenditure of state funds during this same period increased from about $2,000,000 to more than $53,000,000. In addition, more than $27,000,000 of local funds was spent under state supervision in 1915, bringing the total road and bridge expenditures managed by the states to $80,514,699. This amount is greater than the total expenditures for roads and bridges from all sources in 1904.

States at Work
The growth in importance of the state highway department has been rapid. The first of these agencies was created in 1891 in New Jersey and now some form of highway department exists in every state except Indiana, South Carolina and Texas. Since their inception these departments had expended to January 1, 1915, an aggregate of $265,350,825 in state funds for road and bridge construction, maintenance, and administration. They had constructed over 50,000 miles of roads in co-operation with the states. More than 40,000 miles of these roads are surfaced.

The falling off in the value of road work performed by statute and convict labor was from $20,000,000 in 1904 when the total road expenditures were $80,000,000, to about $15,000,000 in 1915 when the total expenditures had grown to $282,000,000. This was a reduction from 25 per cent of the total in the former year to less than 5 1/2 per cent of the total in 1915.

Increase Shown

An increase in the use of better and more expensive types of roads also is shown by the recently compiled statistics. This development has been due, in large part, to the great increase in automobile traffic. It is estimated that there are now approximately 2 1/2 million automobiles in use on the roads of the country, or one car for every mile of road. This present motor traffic is in excess of traffic of all sorts 12 years ago.

The cash road and bridge expenditures of the United States averaged only $28 per mile of rural roads in 1904. In 1915 this average had grown to $109 per mile. New Jersey led all other states both in 1904 and in 1915 with $221 and $475 per mile respectively. Nevada made the least expenditure in both years—$3.72 per mile in 1904 and $17 per mile in 1915.

HAS DISTRIBUTED COVER CROP SEED

ANAHEIM, Oct. 6.—The Anaheim Citrus Fruit Association, which handles the greatest proportion of the orange shipments from this point, has started on the last lap of this season's business and expects to wind up the latter part of this month.

The association has been busy the past month distributing over eighteen tons of cover crop seed among its members. It still has fumigating outfits, of which there are four, busy every favorable night. The cyanide shortage has had no effect on operations as they, with proper co-operative foresight, laid in enough to meet the entire requirements early in the season at a very advantageous price.

The annual meeting and picnic of this association will be held the early part of November. Last year it was the largest gathering of growers ever seen in this county, and this year promises to be of still larger proportions. Preparations are being made to entertain at least 500.

Harbor Boosters Express Appreciation of Earnest Work In Behalf Harbor Project

NEWPORT BEACH, Oct. 7.—Notwithstanding the sullen attitude of Jupiter Pluvius last evening a large company of representative citizens, both men and women, braved the inclement weather and turned out en masse at the Hotel Balboa to do honor to City Attorney Clyde Bishop and indulge in a little jollification over the $125,000 harbor bond issue passed by the people of this city a few days ago. Had one more individual stopped his way into the popular hostelry there would have been an even hundred to gather around the festive board to partake of the appetizing viands set forth by Host Orcutt in the name of the Newport Harbor Association. The wet weather, although deeply regretted by the local people in that it prevented many of the visitors from out the county from being present, in no way affected the spirits of those fortunate enough to be among those present and from the soup a la jolly to the delectable everyone did his duty to the fullest extent.

Bisby Toastmaster
R. L. Bisby of Santa Ana was very happily chosen as toastmaster and in that capacity did all that was expected of him and then some.

After the dinner was served and well disposed of and the entire company lounged about the big dining room in a blissful state of contentment that always arises from a well-satisfied stomach, L. S. Wilkinson of Newport Beach was called on for a few words.

Made Dreams Come True
Mr. Wilkinson in a few well-phrased sentences paid a fitting tribute to the guest of honor, Hon. Clyde Bishop, city attorney of Newport Beach. Mr. Wilkinson spoke of the existence in every community of two classes of men, the dreamers and the doers. Aptly he referred to Mr. Bishop as a "man who dreamed great things and then made his dreams come true," closing his short address with the painting of two word pictures of Newport Bay as it is—the present; and Newport Harbor as it will be—the future.

"The End Is Not Yet"
Lew H. Wallace, a co-worker with many others with Mr. Bishop in the harbor project, traced the long and arduous growth of the idea from its conception ten years ago to its final realization at the polls on September 25 last past, stating tersely "that the end is not yet." Mr. Wallace touched upon the practical problems of harbor making, forcibly and eloquently calling attention to the great opportunities that lie at the front door of Orange county at the present time.

An Organized Community
J. A. Armitage of Sunset Beach, a member of the Orange County Harbor Commission, was the next speaker. Mr. Armitage in his straightforward manner and perfect diction spoke of this city as "a community organized for a certain purpose" and went on to show how Newport Beach had kept faith with Orange county and overcome the obstacles that lay across her path toward this end. He counseled action, more action and further action. "There is no time like the present," he said, "the bond market is right for the sale of bonds. You have them to sell. You will soon be ready to begin building your jetty and the city of Los Angeles stands ready to help you. These two things must not be forgotten. You must keep moving."

Mayor Woodman Sends Regards
At this stage of the proceedings letters were read from Mayor P. T. Woodman of Los Angeles, Council J. S. Conwell of Los Angeles and the Hon. Joe Burke of Santa Ana, expressing their regret at not being able to be present and extending to the association their hearty support in the work at hand.

Harbor Commission Chairman
L. L. Shaw of Santa Ana was the next speaker. As chairman of the County Harbor Commission Shaw's remarks were particularly well received. He said that Orange county appreciated what Newport Beach had done and the chances that lie within our grasp not only for this community but for the entire county as well. Speaking from his knowledge of conditions and his experience on the Harbor Commission, Shaw said it would surprise the people of this city to find out how

"It Is Too Quiet" Says Mother Jones in Street Orations

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—"New York's too quiet. This traction strike is too much like a picnic. I'm going to stir them up. I'm going to do it through women."

Eighty-six-year-old "Mother" Jones, angel of the mine camps, who stirred women to the riot stage last night, commented thus, promising at the same time that the metropolis would see "fireworks" before she was done with it.

In order to accommodate those who have not yet registered or who have moved from one precinct to another and have not transferred, County Clerk W. B. Williams has arranged to keep his office open until 10 o'clock tomorrow night, or later if at 10 o'clock there appears to be any demand for keeping it open.

Ordinarily, the court house closes at noon on Saturday. Tomorrow, however, the clerk's office will be open all day and evening.

Registrations and transfers for the November election must be made by midnight tomorrow night. Any registration deputy can take a registration or transfer.

CALIFORNIA BOY WEDS CHINESE GIRL

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 6.—A husky American youth, accompanied by a pretty Chinese maiden, came down the gangplank of the vessel Gryme, got into a high-powered automobile and sped away. The youth is William Watt, of Tulare, and the maiden was his wife, he told immigration officers. She is Miss Daisy Joe, daughter of a San Francisco Chinese merchant.

When told of the United States laws prohibiting marriage between Asiatic and Caucasian, they announced that they had been wedded in Ensenada, Mex.

BICYCLE STOLEN HERE IN 1914 RECOVERED IN L. A.

A bicycle, the property of Kenneth Colson, reported stolen from Santa Ana on October 14, 1914, was recovered yesterday in Los Angeles, through the co-operation of the Los Angeles police department with the local officials.

Although all hope of recovering the lost wheel had long been given up, yesterday morning a Mexican named Fritz Torres attempted to dispose of it to a dealer in Los Angeles. Through the efficiency of the modern card system of tracing, the police department was enabled to apprehend the man immediately.

RECORD DEAL IN RIPE OLIVES IS ANNOUNCED

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—The largest deal on record in California ripe olives was closed when their entire fall pack—approximately 15,000 cases—was sold to a New York house by the California Association of Olive Growers.

The olives, it was also announced, were from the groves of members of the association in all parts of the state.

RUSSIA TO COLONIZE IN SOUTH AMERICA

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Russia plans to send a million Russian Poles to South American countries. Each colonist going to Venezuela gets three hundred acres free, transportation and enough money to buy farm implements with which to get a start.

Soldier Boys Coming Home Soon

DISPATCH SAYS MILITIA TO BE CALLED IN

Homeward Movement Result of Intention to Give Other Guards Experience

Confirming information brought here last Saturday by former Sergeant Frank Walton, that Co. L would be home within three weeks, comes a dispatch that Company L and the rest of the Seventh California, are coming home. The exact date of their arrival has not yet been made public, but that it is to be in the very near future is the hope and belief in Santa Ana.

Will Campaign For Recruits
Capt. J. L. McBride stated this morning that a strenuous campaign was to be made for recruits in Company L just as soon as the boys returned to Santa Ana. As to the time they would be allowed to bring the company membership up to the minimum strength, he was unable to give a definite answer.

"That will rest largely with the standing of the entire regiment. If the regiment is strong enough in numbers with the exception of only a few companies, those companies may not be given much time in which to recruit to the required numbers. If, however, the whole regiment is lacking in numbers, there may be a longer time granted the different companies."

C. of C. Will Assist
The Chamber of Commerce is going to do all in its power to help the boys recruit to full strength. Secretary Metzgar stated this morning that he had not heard of the order to return, but that he would be glad to see the boys back. He stated further that it was his opinion that the presence of the boys here in Santa Ana would do more to bring the enlistment up to the mark than all the rest of the work that Santa Ana people might do.

Company L answered the call to duty on the 24th day of June, and there are some wives and sweethearts in Santa Ana who can tell you that years have elapsed since that date. The welcome home is going to be a warm one.

Wait for Alabama
HEADQUARTERS CALIFORNIA NATIONAL GUARD, Nogales, Oct. 6.—California regiments will be back in their home state in time to vote for president. This is considered certain when learned from reliable authority that all California units will be sent home and mustered from the service as soon as the Alabama contingents arrive here. Alabama troops are expected to arrive in a week or ten days. The First, Second and Third Alabama infantries, ambulance and signal companies and the field hospital comprise the south contingents. Tomorrow the California contingent under General Wankowski, is expected to arrive from its month of war training at Fort Huachuca.

SLAYER OF COL. MOSBY SUING FOR DIVORCE

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 6.—Charles M. Jenkins, a Civil war veteran, who says he is the man who shot Colonel Mosby, Confederate guerrilla chief, and his wife, Mrs. Phoebe S. Jenkins, who were wed in 1869, were in the divorce court yesterday. Jenkins is 77 years old, and his wife a few years his junior.

According to the charges of the wife, Jenkins deserted her in 1912. He, in turn, charges the desertion to her.

ROADS TO CUT FREIGHT RATES NOVEMBER 24

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—Reductions in transcontinental freight rates by the Southern Pacific, Santa Fe and Western Pacific Railways to become effective Nov. 24 will, it is declared, result advantageously to California growers and shippers.

WOMEN NOT TO ENTER SALOON SIDE DOORS

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 6.—Side doors in San Diego saloons are doomed, according to an edict issued by Chief of Police Wilson.

GLIMPSE at the California troops in great review. Somewhere in this picture may be the husband or sweetheart of some Santa Ana woman or girl. It is only a glimpse at the great parade just finished at the Mexican border, when the greatest number of American soldiers ever gathered since the civil war, were marching under colors at one time.

REGISTER BULLETINS TO TELL STORY OF THE WORLD'S SERIES

The Register is going to tell the story of each of the games of the world's series. The Register will tell the story not only in its columns but also in bulletins that will be received at the end of each half-inning, play by play. Arrangements have been made for the posting of these bulletins as fast as they are received. They will be posted at three places in Santa Ana, on the windows of the Register, on the windows of the White Cross Drug Store, and on the windows of the Dragon.

Through the splendid service of the United Press, the Register will have returns from the world's series baseball diamond tomorrow, and every other day during the series.

DODGER FANS ON THE ROAD TO BOSTON TOWN

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—The great exodus has begun. Everyone, from the office boy to the sick grandmother, has closed up shop and is buying a ticket marked BOSTON U. S. A. Baseball fans of all descriptions, would-be fans, and fans that have been, today are deserting Broadway for the city of the brown baked bean. The game is on. The world's series starts tomorrow.

The officials of baseballdom have gone. The men who call the balls and strikes are already on the job, and the members of the National Commission Umpires left this morning at 10 o'clock.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, those who surprised the entire baseball world, are scheduled to leave this afternoon at 1 p. m., and Manager Robinson says that there never was a fitter or a healthier gang of "Slide, Kelly slide!" men from the bat boy on up.

UMPIRES CHOSEN FOR FIRST GAME OF SERIES

BOSTON, (With the World Series) Oct. 6.—The World's Series games are to begin at 2:30 p. m. The umpires for the National league will be Quigley and O'Leary, and for the American league will be Dindenn and O'Connell. The batteries for the first game will probably be Marquard and Myers for the Dodgers, and Leonard and Root and Carrigan, for the Red Sox.

GOOD WEATHER FOR WORLD SERIES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Pretty fair baseball weather will be provided for the opening game at Boston. "Fair and slightly cooler," the United States weather bureau predicted.

Brooklyn Pitchers
John Wesley Coombs — A "come-back." Turned adrift by Connie Mack in 1914, he signed with the Dodgers and his work has been of the variety that made him famous. He was pitching for Colby college in 1905, when Connie Mack found him and signed him to a Philadelphia contract.

Edward Pfeiffer — The Browns once had Pfeiffer, the brightest star of the Brooklyn hurling corps, but sent him to Denver in 1911. Brooklyn drafted him from Grand Rapids in 1913. He is a right-hander.

George Nap Rucker — Still shining is this star, although some of the lustre was taken off two years ago by an injury. His knowledge of the game and his possession of a slow ball that is almost dinky makes him still effective. He was obtained from Augustus by the Dodgers in the 1906 draft. At the height of his career he was considered the best left-hander in the National league.

Sherrod Smith — Smith had a chance with the National league as a member of the Pittsburgh club before he finally won his spurs with the Dodgers. He started his professional career with Jacksonville, Florida, and also has been with Louisville, Grand Rapids and Newark.

HOLLWEG TAKES BULL BY THE HORNS AND STANDS PAT

Shows No Signs of Weakening In His Opposition to Dictates of Opposition

ABSOLUTELY NO CHANGE EXPECTED IN POLICY

Present Political Explosion Not Cause Downfall of Hollweg or Jagow

BY LINING CARL ACKERMAN (United Press Staff Correspondent)
BERLIN, Oct. 6.—That a submarine blockade of certain English harbors was suggested to the government by several leaders of the Von Tirpitz faction, advocating the resumption of submarine warfare has been learned.

The suggestion was offered as a compromise.

The government was not impressed and there is no indication that the suggestion will be put into effect. The present Reichstag fight appears to be the final effort of conservatives, wealthy industrialists, annexationists and agrarians to get control of the government. Hollweg, however, is showing no sign of weakness. The Von Tirpitz supporters urging such a course would be in accord with Hollweg's announced determination of prosecuting a vigorous war against England and would result in cutting off English food supplies without endangering the lives and property of neutrals.

The conviction is growing that the effort to overthrow the chancellor are doomed to failure and that there will be no change in the personnel of the government during the war.

It is believed that the American reports of a new crisis in German-American relations is without foundation. In the bitter fight between the government and opposing factions, Hollweg is showing no weakness, and is grabbing the bull by the horns. Foreign Secretary Von Jagow daily receives leaders of each party, explaining his position confidently.

A trusted German official, one of the best informed men here, and who knows American sentiment well, declared confidently that the present political explosion would not bring the downfall of either Hollweg or Jagow. "But some Americans fear submarining would be resumed," he was told. He replied, "It would be insanity for the government to resume its submarine policies just because the wild rages of the Zeitungs should demand it. It would be insanity to invite the whole world to enter war against Germany, unless there was absolute proof that the war could be ended immediately with a German victory. I don't believe half the people of Germany want submarining renewed. If, however, the marine ministry convinces the general staff, and the latter placed proof before the chancellor, that by using submarines, Zeppelins, a fleet or anything else the war could be won, and the chancellor didn't follow that advice, he deserves to be hanged. Germany must win. She must use the weapons with which she is certain she can win."

ALLIED ARMIES ARE ASSAILING BULGAR BASE

LONDON, Oct. 6.—The allied armies are fighting toward Monastir, the Bulgar base in Macedonia. At Nidinos they have defeated the Bulgarians in pitched battles, driving the Bulgar troops back in disorder. Southwest of Monastir the French and Russian detachments are pushing an advance toward the Serbo-Greek frontier with greatest vigor. The allies and Teutonic forces are battling for the possession of the hills leading to Monastir, eleven miles away.

BRITISH ARE ADVANCING ALONG THE SOMME FRONT

LONDON, Oct. 6.—Official reports from the War Department here today state that gains have been made along the Somme front at points east of Eaucourt and to the north.

ROME SAYS WAR WILL LAST THREE YEARS MORE

ROME, Oct. 6.—It was learned today in well informed circles that the Italian government is expecting the war to last at least three years more. The people are being informed of such expectations through reports sent out to the Italian newspapers and in the talk of the departmental officials.

BIG BOND ISSUE FOR HIGHWAYS IS GIVEN ITS ENDORSEMENT

Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce Favors $15,000,000 Good Roads Proposal

The directors of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, after full discussion, passed a motion endorsing the proposal to have California vote $15,000,000 bonds for the completion of California's splendid highway system.

This proposal is to be voted upon at the November election. It has received the support of civic organizations all over the state.

The matter was brought before the local Chamber of Commerce by J. N. Anderson, who is chairman of the Santa Ana committee of the Tri-state Good Roads Association. Others upon the committee are Dr. J. M. Burlew, C. S. Crookshank, S. H. Finley, J. C. Metzgar and J. A. Nelson. This association is enthusiastically in favor of the passage of the bonds.

ORVILLE WRIGHT GIVES PATENTS TO GREAT BRITAIN

LONDON, Oct. 6.—Orville Wright, the noted American aeroplane inventor, has presented all his patents free of charge to the British government, today's issue of the Aeroplane magazine declared. Every manufacturer hereafter will be able to use the Wright patents, said to be valued in millions of dollars, unreservedly.

MAYORS AGAINST U. S. MOVIES CENSORSHIP

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—The mayors of the country are against the proposed federal censorship of motion pictures, President Wilson is told in a memorial just sent him by the National Board of Review of Motion Pictures, No. 70 Fifth avenue.

The board says it investigated the drift of public opinion on the censorship question. It questioned mayors of cities from Portland, Me., to California and from St. Paul to Baton Rouge. This is what it found, it says: "Only one mayor replied that he would be willing to eliminate the responsibility from local officials, while four-fifths of the total number said they would not."

MT. LASSEN AGAIN FOURS OUT ITS LAVA

REDDING, Oct. 6.—A black streak, visible on the western slope of Mt. Lassen, today caused observers to believe that either hot mud or some form of lava had poured out of the volcano during its period of activity yesterday. The streak, which extends below the timber line, is as plainly defined as any of the mud streaks made during the May eruption last year, when the upper end of Hat Creek valley was covered with slime.

KANSAS LEADER SAYS HUGHES HAS GINCH ON STATE

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 5.—That Kansas will go for Hughes by a large majority but that Nebraska may be found in either column were predictions made by State Senator Baile P. Waggoner of Atchison, Kan., general solicitor of the Missouri Pacific, who has just arrived in Los Angeles.

Senator Waggoner is a Democrat and he admits that some Kansas Democrats are claiming the state.

"Not a chance," the senator comments. "Standard and Progressive Republicans are thoroughly reconciled again and Hughes will get the normal Republican majority, which will be around 40,000."

"Now in Nebraska the situation is different, and the state may go one way or the other by a narrow margin. Bryan has weakened the party in Nebraska, first by his treachery to Champ Clark at the Baltimore convention and next by forcing the issue of prohibition upon the party in Nebraska. These two things may lose Nebraska for Wilson. I say this with no bitterness towards Bryan, for he is a personal friend of mine and has been my attorney in Nebraska cases."

"What do I think of the Adamson bill? Why, in my opinion, it is plainly unconstitutional. It is not an eight-hour bill, it is an attempt to fix wages, without classification or general scope, of special application only. I regard it as setting a most unfortunate precedent of legislation under threat. Politically, I doubt if it will help the President much, for even in the ranks of labor there is division."

ARMENIAN SPEAKER AT ALAMITOS CHURCH

LOS ALAMITOS, Oct. 6.—Dr. Ichkman, a native of Armenia, addressed a gathering of people, both morning and evening at the Alamitos Friends church on Sunday.

He came to this country and was educated for a medical missionary among his own people, but after preparing himself to return, was told by the Turkish consul that he would be executed immediately upon his return. He decided therefore to dedicate his life to missionary work in the United States.

His address in the morning was devoted to biblical and profane history concerning Christ.

In the evening he spoke upon the "Relation of Our Liquor Traffic to Missions in Turkey."

HUGHES FOR ARBITRATION.

He Would Be First to Accord to Labor
All Rights Found Just After Consideration.

In his Maine speeches Mr. Hughes made it plain that he was not attacking labor or the equity of the proposed increase of wages for the railroad men. He was simply contending for the all important principle of arbitration as the right means of settlement of such questions. Speaking at different places in Maine, Mr. Hughes dwelt upon this question, saying:

"I deeply deplore, in the name of labor, in the name of justice, in the name of American ideals, the surrender of the Executive and of Congress to force, instead of permitting reason to reign."

"The measure to which I have alluded was not, properly speaking, an eight-hour measure. It was a wage measure. It was a plain proposition for a change in the wage scale. I do not speak of the equity of that. That is a matter to be fairly considered. I want what is just and right with respect to wages. I am for the arbitration and the peaceful settlement of these industrial controversies. We can settle everything in this country if we approach those matters with a fair and open mind and an examination of the facts."

"This particular measure shows on its face that it was legislation in advance of the investigation, instead of investigation in advance of legislation. It is said that there was in its favor the judgment of society. The judgment of society in this country has never been passed in favor of legislation without knowledge of the equity and regardless of the facts of the case. There was no judgment of society in favor of the roads which were exempted from its provisions. If there was a judgment of society, why not apply the rule to electric or other kinds of roads or roads less than 100 miles in length? I say, away with such pretense! It was a surrender to force instead of a clear, candid, faithful framed examination of the facts, and then action in accordance with American principles."

"Autocracy represents force; tyranny represents force. Democracy represents the rule of the common judgment after discussion, after an opportunity to know the facts."

NO ONE WAS AFRAID OF HAITI.

Haiti did not behave as badly to us as Mexico behaved; but Mr. Wilson intervened, fought the Haitians, shedding their blood and the blood of our troops, took possession and now has our armed forces in control of Haiti and directing its government. His course of action in Haiti can be defended only if his course of action in Mexico is unqualifiedly condemned; for such action was far more needed in Mexico than in Haiti. But there was a difference in the two cases; and to Mr. Wilson it was a vital difference. Haiti was weaker than Mexico. No one was afraid of Haiti.—From the speech of Colonel Roosevelt delivered at Lewiston, Maine, in behalf of Charles E. Hughes.

DR. HARVEY W. WILEY TO VOTE FOR HUGHES.

He Says Wilson Has Failed to Enforce Pure Food Law.

"I favor the election of Mr. Hughes to the Presidency for entirely different reasons than those held by most of his supporters. It is not because of the Mexican policy nor the foreign policy of the Administration nor by reason of its domestic policies. It is because of the apparent indifference of the Administration of President Wilson to the cause of pure food and drugs. Practically all of the abuses which were injected into the Pure Food Law by the preceding Administrations are still in force. Benzoinate of soda is still regnant. The fumes of burning sulphur are marching along undisturbed. There is evidently a lull in the activities of the Administration of the law. A well-known beverage, declared by the Supreme Court misbranded and amenable to the Food Law has not been molested. No attempt has been made to enforce the law in regard to the bleaching of flour. The repeal of the mixed flour law, that splendid safeguard to the purity of our bread, has been tacitly approved by the Treasury Department."

"Mr. Hughes in his activities on the Supreme Court has stood like a stone wall for the proper Administration of the Food Law. I believe his election would see a radical change in the attitude of the government towards pure food and pure drugs, so vital to the welfare of our people. For this reason, I sincerely hope that Mr. Hughes may be chosen as our next President."

"I should expect Mr. Hughes as President to have the same attitude toward the pure food and drug law that he had as a judge on the bench and to appoint a secretary of agriculture with subordinate officers who would be enthusiastic and earnest in the enforcement of the pure food law for the benefit of the physical, mental and moral welfare of our people."

Congress, representing 100,000,000 people, is not particularly dignified in passing a law at the crack of the railroad brotherhood's whip.

CLOSING OUT SALE

HAS BIG OPENING DAY

What was announced as the final closing-out sale of the M. Goetz Department store started yesterday morning. The sale is being conducted by W. O. Howe, a representative of the California Salvage Company of Los Angeles, the firm that closed out the Crookshank-Beatty company stock.

Mr. Howe reports that the business done on the opening day of the sale, far exceeded the expectations of himself or the owner, M. Goetz. There were about as many customers throughout the day as the large force of extra salespeople could wait on.

The stock has been conveniently arranged so that buyers have access to practically all the various lines of goods, showing the master hand of Mr. Howe, who has had large experience in merchandising in many cities and whose ability was demonstrated in his successful management of the Crookshank-Beatty sale.

MISS SWALL IS AGAIN

MATRON AT HOSPITAL

Miss Hazel Swall, who several months ago resigned as matron at the county hospital, has again been appointed to the position, and is now at the hospital. When the county hospital was opened two years ago Miss Swall was named as its matron, and in that position her efficiency and personality gave entire satisfaction. She left the position in order to take a vacation. A part of the time was spent with her parents, who formerly lived at Sherman Grove but who are now at Sherman. Miss Swall is a graduate of the Santa Ana Hospital Training School for Nurses.

RAIN FALLS ON BEAN FIELDS; DOES MUCH DAMAGE

The rainstorm starting with a heavy downpour at 7:45 last night will spell ruin for that portion of the bean crop remaining in the fields threshed and unthreshed, according to statements of bean men today.

Practically all of the beans grown in the Anaheim, Garden Grove, and Smeltzer sections are exposed to damage because of their lateness in maturing.

Advices from the Irvine ranch stated this morning that the present rain would be disastrous to several of the ranchers leasing Irvine land. Although nearly all of the growers have had their beans in the warehouse for a number of days, and some for as long as three weeks, there were some beans planted later in the spring, which did not mature as early as the others, and as a result are still in the fields.

Several of the ranchers have not had the opportunity to haul in the beans already threshed, and these, still in the sack, stand a chance of being moulded before they can be stored and dried.

The rain during the early hours of the morning seemed to grow more severe as it swept south. Santa Ana recorded .42 of an inch, the Irvine ranch house .52 of an inch, and at Irvine station, where the full force of the storm was felt, the rain gauge showed a total of .86.

The pavement between Santa Ana and Irvine was washed with mud in many places, and machines driving in early this morning made skid-tracks at intervals of about 300 yards. At the Laguna lakes the water washed across the road and brought considerable mud and sand on the surface. The ditches along the road-sides were full at 8 o'clock.

The Tustin Lumber Company reported rainfall for last night and this morning as 48 inches up to 7 a. m. and a fall of 24 inches between that time and 1 p. m. today.

VILLA PARK FOR PAVING THREE MILES ROAD

Committees Are Appointed to Proceed With Project For Improvement

VILLA PARK, Oct. 6.—The project to pave Tustin avenue from Santiago boulevard to the Orange city limits and Villa Park road from Tustin avenue to the packing house received enthusiastic support last night from 200 people who gathered at the meeting of the Villa Park Improvement Association.

The proposed paving will be three miles in length and will cost $20,000. Sentiment for it also desires Orange to build to meet it. George Dieker, F. J. Dettenhaler and E. J. Brown are a committee to see to the formation of a district of 2000 acres to pay for the paving, and M. L. Huberman, Alfred Leach and K. E. Watson are a committee to ask Orange to pave to meet the Villa Park pavement.

ARMY LIEUTENANT AT SAN DIEGO RESIGNS

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 6.—First Lieutenant Harold H. Taintor, Company A, First United States Infantry, accused by Colonel D. J. Baker of conduct unbecoming an officer, has sent in his resignation to the War Department, according to announcement made at regimental headquarters.

Lieutenant Taintor was accused, it is said, of passing a number of checks on a Yuma bank in which he had no funds. The army officer later, however, validated these checks, but not before Colonel Baker received confirmation of the affair.

Less than seven months ago Lieutenant Taintor was court-martialed at the order of Colonel Baker for an alleged military offense. He was found guilty and sentenced to serve six months in the confines of the military camp. The sentence expired less than two months ago and Lieutenant Taintor was on leave of absence in San Diego when the check matter was reported.

WESTMINSTER WOMAN THROWN TWIST WHEELS

Horse Scares, and As Result Mrs. Hagen Is Injured— Fair Weather Wanted

WESTMINSTER, Oct. 6.—As Mrs. Hagen was on her way to church in Santa Ana, Sunday morning, her horse jumped suddenly while passing a truck, throwing her out between the wheel and the body of the buggy, where she was wedged fast. After being dragged some distance some Mexicans came to her assistance, stopped the horse and turned the buggy for her to get out. She was considerably bruised, but otherwise was uninjured, and feels thankful it was no worse. The accident occurred where the Westminster road crosses the Garden Grove boulevard.

Work at the beet dump began again Tuesday, after being closed Saturday and Monday, on account of the rain.

Miss Elizabeth Reed spent Tuesday afternoon in Santa Ana.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughey of Long Beach, visited Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. Hughey's mother, Mrs. Smithling.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Finley of Pasadena, visited Mr. Finley's cousins, the Johnson family, on Thursday of last week. In the afternoon they called on Mrs. Eva Dickey and the Byram family. Mrs. Finley is a cousin of Mr. Byram. The Finleys resided here some years ago.

Mrs. Elizabeth Moore of Smeltzer, visited Wednesday with Mrs. W. J. Edwards.

A number of the members of the Christian Endeavor society are planning to attend the County Convention at Santa Ana.

Mrs. Phil McClintock and Mrs. Orel Hare were Santa Ana visitors Wednesday.

There will be a debate Friday evening, October 6, in the school hall, by Jackson and Phillips of Anaheim, in the interest of the Dry Federation.

E. D. Linder had the misfortune to lose a fine young cown from blood poisoning, Tuesday morning.

As most of the beans in this section are still unthreshed, no one seems anxious for any more rain for some time. The beans cut and piled have been

25 CENTS DESTROYS YOUR DANDRUFF AND STOPS FALLING HAIR

SAVE YOUR HAIR! MAKE IT
THICK, WAVY AND BEAUTIFUL—TRY THIS!

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scourge. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store of toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance and incomparable gloss and softness; but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.—Advertisement.

turned over and should the weather be good, not much loss is anticipated. John Coates and wife of Lancaster, came the first of the week for an extended visit with Coates' son, Stanley Coates, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Smithling spent Monday at Long Beach.

H. B. Anderson finished filing his silo on Tuesday, after some delay on account of the rain. On the way to his place, it is stated, the man running the heavy tractor was halted by one of the road commissioners and required to put planking under the wheels which were damaging the surface of the boulevard. This caused a delay of about two hours.

Mr. Smithling and Clarence Ross, who have been working for H. Woodington on the bean threshers, are home for a few days, waiting for the beans to dry.

Rev. S. A. Thompson of Los Angeles, preached Sunday morning and evening and conducted prayer meeting Wednesday evening. He preached at Van Nuys last year.

R. E. Larter, Lem Griswold, Frank Walker and Robert Hazard returned late Saturday night from their hunting trip.

Mr. Hazard was successful in getting a fine buck. Some very slippery roads were encountered in returning through Brea Canyon, but the trip was made without mishap.

W. E. Smith of Alamitos, who gathers up poultry and eggs about here for the Los Angeles market, spent two hours on Thursday of last week in keeping two drunken men, who had run their machine into the ditch, from being pulled out, as they were a menace to life in their boozing condition. They had just missed running over an aged woman before ditching the machine. Afterward they were taken to Santa Ana by officers. This occurred a mile and a half west of Garden Grove.

Mrs. J. H. Walton and daughter, Mrs. Ruth Penhall, spent Monday in Los Angeles.

Miss Mabel Pope of Talbert, is visiting her cousin, Mrs. Ruth Penhall.

S. W. ODELL SPEAKS TOMORROW AT 4 P. M.

S. W. Odell, superintendent of the southern division of the California Campaign Federation, will speak at the First Baptist Church tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Mr. Odell comes to Santa Ana in connection with the Christian Endeavor convention, and the meeting is scheduled at 4 p. m., that the public generally may have a convenient opportunity of hearing him.

Besides the good address which he has prepared, Mr. Odell will give the latest news of the campaign, and at the close of the address an open parliament discussion will be held on methods of work for the final month.

Some of the questions that Mr. Odell will discuss are, "Are Prohibition and Prosperity Possible in 'This State'?" "Ought We to Vote 'Yes' or 'No' on Propositions 1 and 2 on the Ballot November 7?" To the undecided voter, Mr. Odell will make a strong appeal for he is a convincing speaker; and the meeting should prove a profitable "rally time" for the Dry forces as well.

A registration deputy will be at the First Baptist Church tomorrow, in connection with the various meetings of the convention, to serve any unregistered voter.

AMUSEMENTS

West End Theater

These are the details of a scene in the Morisco-Paramount photoplay, "The Stranger Love," coming to the West End Theater tonight and Saturday:

A giant fir tree towers above its neighbors to a dizzy height. Up in his aerial perch crouches a mountain-eater and unperceived snipes the opposing feudists on the ridge below.

Suddenly in the act of firing he receives a mortal wound and to the holders' horror, throwing his hands in the air, he sways for a moment and then tumbles to eternity. Down, down, down, he plunges to the rocks beneath. This fall is actually made in this Morisco-Paramount photoplay and is one of the most daring on record.

At Clune's

Again W. S. Hart appeared at Clune's Theater to delight the hearts of patrons. This time it is an American Indian picture, presented in the true Triangle manner. Haven't you noticed his facial resemblance to the American aborigine—high cheekbone, narrow eyes and firm set jaw? "The Dawn Maker" tells a big virile story of the great Northwest—the story of a quarter-breed Indian who falls in love with a white girl. The picture will be shown again tonight.

Comedy Program—The comedy with Fred Mace is a riot of fun. Charlie Hasty, "The Hoosier Boy," had the audience laughing for fully ten minutes. Brown and Williams put on some real vaudeville.

"The Silent Battle" at Temple

That warm spot referred to in Holy Writ is presumed to have no fury like a woman scorned—but "The Silent Battle" to be disclosed in beautiful Bluebird photoplays at the Temple Theater this evening promises to give something of an inkling thereof. When a designing woman sees herself being displaced by a rival, the photoplay opportunities are almost unlimited and with J. Warren Kerrigan, the object of the schemer's purpose, and Lois Wilson, the innocent victim of the female villain's plotting, there is sure to be developed many opportunities for extreme dramatic resourcefulness. Maud George plays the woman scorned and a large and talented company of camera-actors will carry an intensely interesting plot to the conclusion of excellent entertainment.

The vaudeville feature for tonight and the rest of the week will be White and Brown in "A Lesson in Flirting," who have one of the best of comedy acts, and Betty Stokes, one of the cleverest of vaudeville stars.

BURKS IS TO REMAIN EFFICIENCY HEAD L. A.

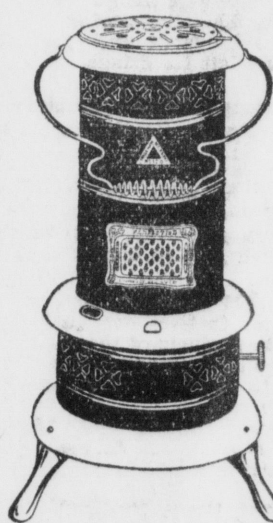

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 6.—In conference with the City Council in his private office, Mayor Woodman yesterday announced that he would not stand for the removal of Director Burks from the municipal efficiency department at present, and suggested an amendment to the proposed ordinance abolishing the Efficiency Commission and providing for a new commission consisting of the mayor as chairman and two citizens to be appointed by the mayor.

At the conclusion of the conference it was announced that a majority of the council stand ready to approve the amendment and pass the proposed ordinance.

BUMP ON A LOG

Any person who wakes up Sunday morning and finds that he is not on the great register will not be able to vote at the November election.

He won't have any say in who is going to be President of the United States.

He won't get a whack at the liquor traffic in California.

He won't be one of those who will take a part in doing what the industries of this county want; namely, a protective tariff man in Congress from this district.

He won't have a chance to express his sentiment on national prohibition by determining whether he shall vote for R. C. Harbison, Republican, or William Kettner, Democrat, nominees for Congress, between whom the fight for Congressman lies.

He won't be allowed to take part in the election of Gov. Hiram W. Johnson as United States Senator, to represent California in handling the vast amount of tremendously important legislation that is to come up at Washington in the next six years.

He won't ballot upon the advisability of returning Joe C. Burke to the Assembly, or of sending S. C. Evans to the State Senate.

He won't join with the people of California in determining whether or not more good road bonds shall be issued.

He won't vote on any of the amendments.

He won't be doing his duty by himself, his family, his city, his county, his congressional district, his state, or his nation.

He won't be anything but a bump on a log, a political nonentity, a mere nothing upon a day that in this nation and this state is a day of supreme importance.

The pronoun "he" has been used in the above utterances as a matter of convenience. Substitute throughout the words "he or she" for the word "he," and this editorial is as complete as it ever will be.

STRAIGHT LOGIC

Orange News: The declaration of Judge Thomas in favor of the candidacy of R. C. Harbison for Congress, is one that should be read with great care by dry voters who have felt under obligation to cast a ballot for the Prohibition nominee, Mr. Edwards.

Judge Thomas says with truth that a vote for Edwards is half a vote for Kettner. It is evident, therefore, that in voting for Edwards, the dry voter is unwittingly lending his influence to the election of a wet congressman.

There is no chance for Edwards to be elected. Anyone who pretends to the slightest knowledge of political conditions in the district admits that. There is a very considerable chance of Kettner, the wet candidate, being elected, if the dry vote, greatly in the majority, is split between two candidates.

There is need for the Edwards supporters to study this situation earnestly and decide whether or not they are justified in staying with him, however admirable the candidate himself may be, when the dry cause in the district is in jeopardy. We know of no one who could have placed the matter before the voters more forcibly than has Judge Thomas.

Morals of the Circus
Probably there still are people who believe it wicked to go to a circus, but they are not very happy folk, and do not desire to be happy, and it is a sorrow to them that others are happy. So there is no occasion to fret about them.

The morals of circus performers are on a high level, to which the movie crowds would do well to climb. There are no scandals in the inner life of circus people. The triangle brand of domesticity is discouraged utterly. There are no unprotected young women associated with a sawdust ring. The girl employed by a circus, if not attended by a father or a big brother, or even by her own mother, always is provided with a chaperone.

Here again, the movie concerns may find a valuable hint. So far as there is prejudice against the motion picture business it rests largely on the current belief about the characters and conduct of actors and actresses.

December and May
As sixty-five he gave his age,
(He had of dough a plenty)
The license clerk upon the page,
Wrote hers as five and twenty.

"O romance sweet!" reporters sighed,
Who saw them at the altar,
Nor noticed how the happy bride
Had trained him to the halter.

Municipal Customs
When a visiting host approaches a populous place there is a custom of summoning local dignitaries and having them present the arrivals with the keys of the city.

Apparently the persons with authority to do this were absent from Verdum, or the keys had been lost.

Moral or Financial
All trunk lines between Chicago and Denver are said to have abandoned the sale of wines and liquors in the dining cars.

It is possible that the managers had ascertained that after paying the current prices for food, the passenger had nothing left for drinks.

The Ham Sandwich Problem
Somebody calls attention to the fact that one ham sandwich is not enough for a hungry man, and that two are too many, and wants to know what ought to be done about it.

Buy three, and divide them between two men. Try us on something hard.

The Oil Situation
Oil seems to have one quality not common to products of the earth. The more there is, the more each customer is asked to pay for such modest portion as he uses.

If the same rule applied to wheat, a particularly abundant harvest would mean costly bread.

The House Husband
A periodical devoted to domesticity in all its phases, has found a fireside ornament that styles himself a house-husband.

It seems that as a carpenter, he could earn $21 a week, while his wife as a stenographer was good for forty regular bones each pay day. They decided that it was not wise for both to work outside the home, and so the less remunerative job was given up, and the male darned the socks and wrestled with the kitchen pots.

If they like it, all right. A husband with any style about him would have rebelled. Either he would have fitted himself for the $40 job, or he would have stuck to his own, hiring a competent person to mop the floor.

Going Up
Only a few years ago a woman in ordinary circumstances thought she was being extravagant if she paid $6 for a pair of shoes. When she was asked to pay $8 a little later for shoes no better, she flushed indignantly, thinking the dealer guilty of larceny.

Now let the woman of ordinary circumstances goes into a shoe shop and the clerk will show her some rather commonplace shoes at $10, intimating suavely that if she does not desire to wear the same grade of footwear as her maid does, she will of course pungle up about $12, while to be really in it will require at least $14, although the best people are giving

They ascribe this sort of thing to the war in Europe. Were Diogenes looking for an honest man today, he would need a thousand-candlepower lantern.

THE COST OF LIVING

Fresno Republican

The figures regarding the high cost of living that are now being made public are not pleasing to the most of us. For some, they mean a reduction in the surplus at the bank. For very many of us, they mean an enforced reduction of the luxuries of life, and even of some of the accessories of life that we have come to regard as the decencies or even as the necessities of life. For a few—we hope a very few—they mean occasional misery and want.

Following the general custom, we may aver that this, as well as the most of our other troubles, are due to the war in Europe. The extreme Socialist, of course, will continue to aver that they are due to a capitalist conspiracy, which could be smashed instantly, and can only be smashed, by a prompt Socialist victory at the polls. There are numerous other isms which account for the ills of mankind by the existence of the particular variation from the world state with which they would be pleased.

But the high cost of living due to great flood of credit which Europe is creating to keep up the war, or to a Wall Street conspiracy, or to a combination of new demands for consumption and many new limitations upon production, it is going to keep the politicians busy accounting for the facts, to arrive at a conclusion that will help their man to obtain office. Is it out of the way to suggest, at this time, that some offices may have an effect upon the high cost of living, and that others may not?

Should we not, to the extent that we are interested politically in the high cost of living, ascertain just who can influence it by official action, and who cannot? Is it not right and proper to elect men who can and will alter the tariff, if the tariff is going to influence the high cost of living? And is it not folly to pick the official

"This country is progressive and if you youngsters are going to be in the running, you will throw in your fortunes with the party of which the progressives have the control."

"I am a progressive. I do not spell it with a capital P, but I think my pace is just as fast as those who do."

Progressives who remember what their 1912 platform demanded will not fail to remember that most of its planks have been made law by the Democratic Congress and that the Republicans tried to prevent the legislation.

The Republican Congressmen who voted for the Democratic income tax provision utterly disregarded the fact that Charles Evans Hughes was the Governor who fought the income tax amendment to the Federal Constitution.

Let no man criticize what Wilson has done who is afraid to say what he would have done in like circumstances. What would YOU have done, Mr. Hughes?

The speeches of Hughes don't specify or satisfy.

By his friends you may know him. And there are Penrose, Smoot, Gallinger, Cannon, Mann, Lodge, etc.

The "notes" of President Wilson and his accomplished Secretary of State will be accepted by chancelleries of chaser of squirrels in the Golden Gate Park because the Czar of Russia is buying up all our boots, and therefore the price of leather is leaving us all barefoot?

While we are on this subject of the high cost of living—and we shall be, probably for some time—we wonder just how agile the present administration will be in accounting for it. We were told, in the Democratic platform of four years ago, that the high cost of living would have the particular enmity of a Democratic administration. Through an unfortunate series of events, a Democratic administration got its chance to be responsible for the conduct of national affairs. But the high cost of living was speedily forgotten. In fact, it has no mention in the Democratic platform of this year. One would think, from the text of Democratic campaign documents, that the cost of living had gone down to nothing.

In fact, President Wilson and his followers have been very busy pointing out the prosperity with which the country is now throbbing, due to the big sales of ammunition and food-stuffs to the people of Europe who have no time to grow their own food or make enough ammunition.

What then, of the high cost of living? If it is due to the war, is not this prosperity of producers of grain and leather and ammunition also due to the war, and not to the Democratic administration? There it is, to pick and choose. In the gamble of office, the Democrats have tried to cover the failure of their tariff policy by pointing to an official prosperity due to the war. And this same war, it seems, is the principal factor that will make us all pay much more for our food and clothes. The logic of events has shown the false pretense of the Democratic campaign.

the future as models of diplomatic astuteness. They have brought to the great American nation prosperity with honor and peace without groveling.

The President's plan for averting the strike of the railroadmen and all the terrible results that the strike would have entailed has been severely criticized by Hughes and his followers—but no one offered a better plan.

THOSE STAGES

Riverside Press: Orange county is going after the jitney drivers who load their cars up with baggage that juts beyond the running board and then push other drivers off the pavement with their reckless driving. Steps are being taken to enforce the speed limit law on the street and county highways and to provide for other regulations that will safeguard the rights of the ordinary driver.

Auto drivers in general will rejoice at the action proposed by Orange county, but the problem is a statewide one and should be met by state license and regulation of the auto stage business.

FROM THE CANDIDATE ON THE ROAD

"America will not hold her own by declaration."

"We should have investigation before legislation, not legislation before investigation."

"If you go through the Democratic platforms for the last fifty years you will feel as though you were walking through a cemetery consecrated to departed constitutional theories."

"I do not covet power; power means responsibility. I do not covet honors; I have enjoyed great honors. I simply desire to serve the American people."

"I do not want office simply for the sake of holding the job."

"We've got to get over the idea that anyone is good enough for a job in this country."

"I want to see our public administration an honor to American ability."

"Let our watchword be 'America trained to do her best.'"

"When America hesitates the working man is apt to lose his job."

"It must be the old, hard lesson of economy. I believe in putting a stop to wastefulness and extravagance."

"The Republican party in its policy does not depend upon a foreign war to save this country from disaster."

"You cannot trust our opponents with American prosperity. They need a European war to help them out."

"Weakness breeds insult; insult breeds war. Honest, firm, consistent, determined defense of known rights establishes peace and respect throughout the world."

"If anyone rises in this country to say I am not the friend of labor he knows he is not telling the truth."

"The present administration learned its own mind too late, and even then it wasn't sure of it."

"We are in no danger of having to go to war to protect our rights when the other side knows we're 'too proud to fight.'"

"If this administration is saved from the condemnation it deserves in ignoring the necessities of American enterprise, it is saved by the European war and a deceived electorate."

"I do not believe that the American business man is a rogue. I do not believe the American business man is unworthy of confidence. I do not believe in trying to deride American success or the men of America who are successful. If that were true, God save the commonwealth."

NURSES MEET

Santa Ana Association Gathers At Home For Regular Business, Social Time

The Santa Ana Nurses' Association held its regular business meeting yesterday afternoon at the nurses' home at the Santa Ana Hospital.

After the business had been dispatched, Miss Winifred Husser sang some Scottish songs, one in German and one in Scotch, the last number being entitled, "My Task," and all were greatly appreciated.

Miss Grace Johnson and Mrs. Lou Gledhill served an appetizing luncheon of sandwiches, shrimp salad, coffee, cakes and mints, carrying out a Halloween idea.

Those present were Misses Katherine Rutherford, Martha Schildmeyer, Velma Taylor, Irene Miller, Grace Johnson, Elizabeth Spahr, Carrie Morse, Anna and Rose Lieberman, Cora Huntington, Margaret Walkinshaw and Mrs. Lou Gledhill and Miss Husser, who was the guest of the afternoon.

Relief Corps Meeting

The regular meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps was held in G. A. R. hall yesterday afternoon, with Mrs. Nellie King presiding. There was a good attendance of members and a number of visitors from Los Angeles.

Final arrangements were made for the annual meeting of the Orange County Veterans' Association to be held in G. A. R. hall next Tuesday, October 10. This meeting will convene at 10 a. m. for a business session and election of officers. At noon a bountiful basket lunch dinner will be served, the baked beans and coffee to be furnished by the association.

Among the visitors present were Mesdames Bissell, Ellen Rice, Martha Packard and Ella Culver all former members of Sedgwick Corps but now residents of Los Angeles and members of Robley D. Evans Corps of the city. The ladies all expressed pleasure at being able to meet so many old friends and extended a cordial invitation to members of Sedgwick Corps to visit Robley D. Evans Corps.

The October tea was postponed.

Evangelical Aid Society Meets

The home of Mrs. Fred Rohrs, Sr., on East Seventeenth street, was the scene of a very profitable and pleasant meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of the German Evangelical church yesterday afternoon. The home was effectively decorated with large bouquets of carnations and chrysanthemums, about forty participating.

During the regular business session, reports were heard and plans made to help the various missionary departments.

Mrs. Rohrs was assisted in the service of light refreshments by her daughter, Miss Minnie Rohrs and Miss Josephine Kubitz and Miss Edith Kuchel.

Missionary Meeting

The Women's Missionary Society of the United Presbyterian Church met Wednesday afternoon in the church parlors, with the President, Mrs. J. G. Kennedy, presiding. Mrs. J. T. Raitt led the devotional service. The subject was "Home Missions." The program leader was Mrs. S. H. Finley, who read a splendid paper on the subject.

The greater part of the meeting was taken by each one present telling what the missionary society meant to them.

A committee consisting of Miss Sarah Finley, Mrs. Sarah Skiles and Mrs. Juliette Smith was appointed to draft resolutions on the death of Mrs. T. J. C. Webster of Pasadena, who recently passed away at that place. Mrs. Webster organized the first missionary society in the history of this church. Mr. Webster was at that time the pastor.

Mrs. D. L. Anderson will have charge of the next meeting.

INTERESTING NUPTIALS

Miss Edna Edora Rossier Becomes Bride of Glenford Griffin Last Evening

One of the prettiest and most interesting of the fall weddings was that solemnized last evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Rossier on Halesworth street, when their winsome daughter, Edna Edora, became the bride of Glenford Clinton Griffin, son of Rev. and Mrs. C. W. Griffin, of this city.

The decorations in the cosy home were greatly admired by the guests, as they were carried out in pink and green, roses and carnations with a profusion of greenery being cleverly utilized. The bride and groom stood in the bay window, which was banked with greenery and studded with the rose colored blossoms. As they entered, Miss Malvina Griffin, sister of the groom, played Mendelssohn's wedding march.

An interesting feature was that the groom's father, Rev. C. W. Griffin, pastor of the Nazarene church of this city, performed the impressive ring ceremony, assisted by Rev. S. W. Stone of the Free Methodist church.

The bride made a pretty picture in her robe of white lace cloth with mesaline and pearl adornments and a bridal wreath of white carnations crowned her head. She carried a shower of pink and white carnations.

Following a shower of hearty congratulations and viewing the very large number of costly wedding gifts, of silver, china, linen and cut glass, dainty refreshments of pink and white ice cream, cake and fruitade were served, the bride and groom cutting the beautiful cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Griffin left today for Berkeley, where they will make their home, the groom being an automobile machinist at the University city. The going away suit was a becoming tailored gown of blue serge.

Mrs. Griffin is well known in Santa Ana, having graduated in last year's class of the high school. The many friends of the young couple will wish them all happiness and prosperity in their new home.

Those in attendance at the wedding were Rev. and Mrs. C. W. Griffin and family, Rev. and Mrs. S. W. Stone and family, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Rossier, T. P. Ryder, Elliott M. Pillsbury, Mrs. Samuel H. Ryder, Mr. and Mrs. M. Renton, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Ry-Gilhelmer, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Ryder, Gilhelmer, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Ryder, all of Pasadena, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Smit of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dimmock and family of Los Angeles, Misses Elsie and Anita McDonald, Velda Nimmo, Merle Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tibbits, Mrs. Alvira Greer, all of Santa Ana; Mrs. Katherine O. Lutgens of San Diego, Otto Jacobs, Henry Lockett and C. E. Rossier.

Woman's Civics Club

The Woman's Civics Club will hold its first meeting of the year tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 in the council chamber of the city hall. There will be a short business session and Rev. A. T. O'Rear will talk on "The Welfare of the Boy." Miss Genevieve Atkinson, the playground supervisor of the city schools, will also tell of the work along that line, her aim for the coming year and the great benefit to be derived therefrom.

All are most urgently invited. Members will take notice that the yearly dues are now payable.

Amendments to Be Explained

There will be a very important meeting held Wednesday evening, October 18, for the purpose of explaining the seven amendments. This meeting is under the auspices of the Federation of Women's Clubs and includes nine organizations of the city: the Ebell, Woman's Club, W. C. T. U., Civics, Dry Federation, Monday Club, Present-Day Club, Chamber of Commerce and the Ministerial Association. A. J. Wallace, former lieutenant-governor, has been secured to speak on Nos. 1 and 2, and other speakers will be secured for the other amendments.

Ben Turner still writes fire insurance at 113 West Fourth St. Phone 284.

FIPPS-LONG

Miss Beulah Fipps and George A. Long Wedded At Informal Ceremony

Miss Beulah Fipps, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Q. Fipps, and George A. Long of Los Angeles, were married last evening at 8:45 o'clock by Rev. J. A. Stevenson at the bride's home on South Broadway.

The young people surprised the family by appearing at the Fipps home and announcing their intention and only the relatives and a few close friends witnessed the ceremony.

The bride was beautiful in a handsome wine-colored suit and following congratulations, light refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Long went to San Diego for a honeymoon and upon their return will reside in Los Angeles, where Mr. Long is in the employ of Uncle Sam in the postoffice.

ANNIVERSARY DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Will Spurgeon Hosts At Delightful Golf Dinner Last Evening

With a company of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Spurgeon last evening gave a golf dinner at their beautiful home on North Main street, the occasion being the celebration of their sixth wedding anniversary.

Following dinner, the evening hours were passed with auction bridge, the guest list including Messrs. and Mmes. E. S. Morrow, M. B. Lacy, S. E. Babson, John A. McFadden, Harry Hanson, J. Dick Wilson, Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Flood and Messrs. Edward McWilliams and E. L. Roberts.

Good Brotherhood Meeting

The Fraternal Brotherhood Lodge, No. 20, met last night with a good attendance regardless of the rain. After lodge, the entertaining committee treated those present to ice cream cones and later they gave a guessing contest. Miss Clara Cone was the lucky one and received the first prize, which was a box of candy. The second prize, an all-day sucker, was given to Mr. Wilkinson, he being such a nice big, fat boy.

Every member is requested to be present next Thursday evening as a good time is anticipated.

A Flower and a Bride

In 1892 when Santa Ana was holding chrysanthemum fairs each year under the auspices of the Congregational Church, H. R. Bristol propagated an entirely new chrysanthemum, a beautiful incurring, delicately tinted lavender variety.

In his family was a sweet little baby girl after whom he named this flower and it is known as the "Marian Bristol" chrysanthemum.

Mr. Bristol, who was a druggist, then changed, on account of health, his occupation to that of rancher. He then gave his chrysanthemum to Mrs. Walter Tedford, who sent it to Wm. Marugg of North Pomona. He was charmed with it and was certain there was a great future for it. He sent it to firms in New York, New Jersey and Boston, but as it was a late bloomer it could not be grown out of doors. So only in Southern California does it come to perfection.

The plants were given to the school children, so many have been raised here. So much for the flower.

Now, the bride is to be this sweet little girl, after whom the flower was named. The event takes place in Los Angeles on the 18th of this month. The lucky man is W. E. Dunlap.

Of course Marian wants her chrysanthemum for her wedding. The family has lost the variety and have none in their garden. If you have some and would like to give them to the Bristols, please call up her aunt, Mrs. Linn Shaw, Home Phone, or Mrs. Ed Tedford, Sunset Phone.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Lewis of North Main street were hosts at a pleasant informal dinner last evening, covers being laid for their daughter Dorothy, son Daniel, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Cox, Vivian, Minor, Anita and Edwin Cox. Pink roses and smilax made the table inviting and following the delightful meal, a social evening was passed.

Each guest was presented with a dainty Japanese tea cup and saucer from the Flowery Kingdom and Mrs. Alice Harris, whose birthday the day marked, was given a strip of hand-made oriental embroidery.

BOY BANK BANDIT IS KILLED IN RUNNING FIGHT

MIAMI, Ariz., Oct. 6.—Following one of the most daring bank robberies in the history of Arizona, Suizo Mateo, said to be a former lieutenant under General Francisco Villa, was shot and killed by Deputy Sheriff Bill Williams late yesterday afternoon.

The death of the bandit came as the dramatic conclusion of an exciting man hunt through the Pinal mountains, in which Deputy Elan was wounded.

Alone and unarmed, Mateo, who is a mere boy, entered the local branch of the Gila Valley Bank and Trust Company at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, covered the entire bank force with two revolvers and forced them into a corner of the room. Then he forced a cashier to disburse to open the safe and hand over to him $10,000 in bills, backing through the door the bank robber jumped on to his horse and rode off at a mad gallop in a rain of bullets from the bank windows.

PLAN ABOLISH COUNTY JAILS

Prison Association Favors a Change in Method of Handling Prisoners

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 6.—The elimination of the county jail as other than a house of detention, is one of the main objects of Congress of the American Prison Association, which will open in the Hotel Statler tomorrow and will continue five days.

"We shall take determined stand to place the county jails under state regulation and management," said Arthur Pratt, president of the Association and warden of the Utah State Prison. "In the county jails convicted prisoners and acknowledged criminals are in the company of those who have never had a trial and therefore must be regarded innocent. The record of crime and evil influence is sown and takes root a few months later when the 'beginner' is released from association of the convicts."

Sunday will be devoted to work in the churches. Many of the ministers have given their pulpits to the Association for the day and from them association members will spread their doctrine. Three meetings will be held on each of the other days of the Congress.

COMMITTEES SEEK $800 FOR FIGHTING FOR THE DISTRICT

ANAHEIM, Oct. 6.—Committees are soliciting funds to be used to defray the expenses of attorneys now representing the United States Water Protection District. The question of the validity of the formation of the district is now before the appellate court and a decision is expected to be rendered in a couple of weeks.

Should an appeal be taken to the state supreme court, attorneys' fees altogether will amount to about $800. At present the United district has no available funds and in order to reimburse the attorneys it has been deemed necessary to resort to popular subscription.

It is firmly believed that the validity of the district will be upheld, if not in the appellate court, it will be in the state supreme court, which court it is said has affirmatively ruled in a similar case taken on appeal to that tribunal.

The case hinges on whether or not the board of supervisors erred in accepting names of residents from the last assessment roll, the final closing of which lacked four or five days at the time, to whom notices were to be sent calling for election of trustees. The committees are meeting with success and quite a sum has been subscribed, but more is needed. The committee having the lists in charge are desirous of meeting all who are in favor of the district and who feel inclined to donate to the fund.

ELIZA ANN WALKER, 'PRISON ANGEL,' DEAD

SAN FRANCISCO.—There is one kindly face that will be missed for a long time in the places in San Francisco where there are iron bars and grating locks. It is that of Mrs. Eliza Ann Walker, who is dead. For years "Mother" Walker, as she was known, paid regular visits to prisoners in the city's jail and carried cheer to many of the inmates.

TWO little hearts that beat as one. Siamese twin girls born grown together, who perhaps would have been separated by this time had not the war in Europe broken out.

Higher cost of "the high cost of living" and many other unusual conditions existing in this country at this time are attributed to the efforts of the governments across the water to destroy each other.

The present condition of two baby girls who will be seen in Santa Ana next week is said to be a result of the war breaking out in Europe.

The two little girls were born joined together. They are a wonderful physical sight. They will be exhibited here with the Foley & Burk shows at Elks' Carnival.

The children were born in Siam, their parents being Mr. and Mrs. D. Y. Hingjosa. Anticipating the visit of the doctor, it was the happiest moment in the lives of the parents when the attending physician announced the birth of twin girls. But unfortunately they were grown together. He comforted the parents with the statement that a minor operation would separate the two.

A later examination proved it would be more serious, and would require the most skilled surgeons and advised they take them to America and have it performed. They came to America where the most eminent surgeons advised that the operation be performed by a surgeon who had performed a similar one, if it was possible to get him.

After many inquiries, they discovered that a Dr. De Seilliere of France who had separated two little French girls successfully would perform it. About this time the present European War broke out and naturally prevented their journeying to France with safety.

So there is only one thing to do and that is wait for the end of the war.

Those who visit this concession at the big benefit carnival will feel for once in their lives that the Barker on the front told the truth when he announced that one of the most wonderful freaks of nature would be seen. The little tots are not in the least handicapped by being grown together and they scamper around throwing kisses here and there.

BLOCKADE CUTS GERMANY OFF FROM U. S. SUPPLIES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—How the allies' blockade has gradually shut off supplies from Germany and Austria-Hungary until the point has been reached at which these two countries receive absolutely nothing from the United States is demonstrated in figures published by the Department of Commerce.

In August, 1915, despite the war, we sent $38,743 worth of goods to Germany. This August, according to the official figures, we sent nothing. In the first eight months of 1915 we sent $11,688,519 in merchandise, etc., to Germany. This year in the same period we sent $1,008,233. The bulk of these supplies, however, were sent early in the year, before the blockade reached its limit of intensity.

To Austria we sent in August, 1915, $66,628. This August we sent nothing. Our exports to the dual monarchy for January to August, 1916, however, exceeded those of the same time last year. The figures are, respectively, 1916, $62,285; 1915, $42,334.

But in the same periods we were shipping millions and millions to the allies. Our exports to the United Kingdom leaped from $93,190,955 in August, 1915, to $159,437,554 in August, 1916. Exports for January-August, 1915, to the United Kingdom were $753,479,395; this year they were $1,297,750,929.

GIRL DRUGGED BY CANDY; LEFT ON ROAD

NEW YORK.—Drugged candy pressed by a polite young woman upon another in a public park—that was the first episode in the painful adventure of Mrs. Frances Werner.

It ended in her being abandoned, unconscious from chloral, in the underbrush bordering a lonely stretch of the Paterson Plank Road between Carlstadt and Union Hill, N. J. There she was found at 6 o'clock in the morning by Policeman Smith, of East Rutherford. Unable to revive her, he took her to East Rutherford, where two doctors worked over her three hours before bringing her to her senses. They are sure her condition was due to chloral poisoning.

NEW YORK FARMERS ENLIST STATE AID TO GET FAIR MILK PRICE

ALBANY, N. Y.—A "milk strike" among the farmers who supply milk to the city of New York has been averted by the formulation of a scheme which practically makes the state a selling agent.

A system was designed at a meeting of the board of directors of the Dairyman's league of New York, and was not adopted until after long debate.

According to the new scheme, the farmers will be organized into local dairyman's leagues to handle the milk. The local leagues will be under the general supervision of the general league which will dispose of all the milk through the state department of food and markets, at a price to be determined by the board of directors of the Dairyman's league. In that way the farmers expect to be able to control the price of milk, instead of prices to individual farmers. The distributors, under the scheme, will be able to get milk only through the state department of food and markets.

The Dairyman's league represents 12,000 farmers, 190,000 cows in New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Connecticut and Massachusetts. The directors are of the opinion that the league is now fully and strongly organized to carry on a winning fight for better prices for the farmers.

FORGETS TO REMEMBER;
REMEMBERS HE FORGOT;
BREAKS HEAD IN HURRY

NEW YORK.—Max Resnitzky, 17 years old, a waiter employed at Thirty-ninth street and Broadway, and living at 812 Broome street, boarded a Broadway car at Thirty-eighth street with his two brothers, Sol and Benjamin. As the car approached Thirty-ninth street Max realized he had forgotten something in the restaurant where he had been employed and, while the car was in motion, jumped from the running board into an excavation being made for the new subway and dropped 49 feet to the bottom of the pit.

His two brothers seeing him disappear from sight started a wild cry, which was taken up by other passengers on the car. Policeman Kraft of the traffic squad, climbed to the bottom and carried the injured man to the street, where a passing automobile was pressed into service and Resnitzky taken to the French hospital, where Dr. Hull found the injured man in a serious condition suffering from a fracture of the skull and internal injuries.

PLANS ARE MADE TO RUN RELIEF SHELTER FOR THE WINTER

Ministerial Association and Associated Charities Aid Salvation Army

The administration of the Salvation Army in Santa Ana has been placed in the hands of Captain Carroll, who succeeded Captain Woodside in this excellent work about the middle of July. Captain Carroll comes to Santa Ana after an extended and valuable experience, not only with the problems of the Salvation Army but also in personal study and work with the down-and-out class, especially the transient man, who has become such a serious problem to California communities.

The Ministerial Association and the Associated Charities have extended a hearty welcome to Captain Carroll in his new undertaking here, and are working out a definite scheme of co-operation with the Salvation Army in order to give shelter, work and help to the stranded man.

Men on the road are becoming more numerous, owing to disturbed industrial conditions, to seasonal labor, and to the improper methods of various towns and counties of meeting and handling this vital human problem. There has been too long an atmosphere of indifference and lack of responsibility upon the part of the community toward the unemployed man. There seems to be a general opinion that if a man is out of work it is his own fault, and consequently he is pushed from pillar to post with slight and often flimsy assurances that the coveted job always lies in the other place.

Fitted for Task

Captain Carroll is personally unfitted for dealing with these men and for finding working opportunities for them, as well as giving them the necessary relief to tide them over the hour of need.

At a recent meeting of the Associated Charities it was voted that financial aid would be extended to the Salvation Army in order to renovate the old relay store on East Fourth street. By the virtue of hard work and resourcefulness of Captain Carroll the most satisfactory results have been achieved with the money donated. Facilities for cleaning and washing, a shower bath, sanitary sleeping accommodations, fumigation plant and proper arrangements for supplying second-hand clothing, have been among the improvements. The Ministerial Association has generally aided the work by contributing a large part of the expense involved in feeding the penniless hungry man.

Captain Carroll is working out a constructive plan in his administration of the shelter. Work is demanded for the benefit received. There is always wood to be cut and necessary cleaning to be done in return for shelter and food. During the last ten weeks the Captain reports that he has distributed 189 garments, 29 pairs of shoes and two bed quilts, and has supplied 287 beds and 353 meals. These figures speak for themselves. With the advent of the fall season and the hard times and the fact that it is election year, there will be a great influx of the homeless unemployed men. The community must face this problem. If these men are not cared for in some systematic way, they will get their food by house to house begging, since they must live.

It will be economy in the long run to promote this constructive plan of dealing with the problem, and it is hoped that Captain Carroll in his canvass for assistance and funds from the community may receive a hearty response.

TWO DEAD, 6 STRICKEN; QUEER THROAT MALADY

PARIS, Ill.—Two deaths and six persons ill is the toll of a queer throat malady which has broken out in this vicinity. Local physicians admit their inability to diagnose the disease and have appealed to the state board of health at Springfield.

The two victims are Carroll Paris, aged five, and her sister, aged seven, daughters of Mrs. Maud Paris, who herself is afflicted with the plague. Disregard of the quarantine signs by neighbors resulted in the exposure of the family of Alvis Bown, next door, and the entire family is suffering from the epidemic.

Diagnosed at first as only a sore throat, the disease was not looked upon as being serious and spread rapidly despite antitoxin for diphtheria, which physicians administered. An examination of a swab taken from the throat of one of the Paris children reveals the presence of a bacilli which is considered to be extremely dangerous as well as contagious.

CITY EDITOR TACKLES THE HIGHER CRITICISM

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa.—Having resigned in disgust his job of playing "Walnut 750" for every queer question that came over the wire, a city editor here decided he would do musical criticism as a volunteer task.

The local dialect went to a band concert and took copious notes.

He wrote a column the next day, one of the comments being on the performance of the soloist.

"It is regretted," he wrote, "that one whose voice has such delightful range and sweet tones, should have sung in a foreign tongue."

He is now busily engaged pacifying the singer's friends. The foreign tongue she sang the song in was English. The city editor has gone back to the movies, assigning the "cub" to the highbrow stuff.

ORANGE COUNTY AUTO CLUB TO RE-INSURE POLICIES

The regular meeting of the Auto Club was held Wednesday evening in the club rooms above McFadden's hardware store. This was the first meeting to be held after the anniversary of the club's indemnity exchange. During the first year's operations of the insurance department, the exchange has handled eighty claims. Last month's claims, allowed at the meeting, totaled $225.

A series of maps from the Thurston Map Company are being arranged for the convenience of the members. These maps will include all the territory in the state from San Francisco to the Mexican line.

The club decided at the Wednesday meeting to erect a series of road signs throughout the county that would supplement fully the purpose of the Southern California Auto Club signs. The S. C. signs show, by leaders, the routes to the more popular and well known places, but do not designate the many little places in Orange county that are both interesting and attractive. Neither do they show the dangerous places, nor designate the speed limits at boundary lines. The signs now being arranged for by the Orange Club will take up this work in detail.

The first insurance policy of the club was issued on the 17th of September last year. Since that time there have been many applications for insurance in the mutual organization. At the last meeting 36 applications were accepted.

As a supplement to the insurance offered by the club, and as a protective measure against too heavy assessments, a large outside company has offered them a re-insurance, to cover all losses between $1000 and $10,000.

TAKE 'CASCARETS' IF HEADACHY, BILIOUS AND CONSTIPATED

BEST FOR LIVER AND BOWELS,
BAD BREATH, BAD COLDS,
SOUR STOMACH

Get a 10-cent box. Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, head and nose clogged up with a cold—always trace this to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach. Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months.—Advertisement.

caused by fire. The local club is to sustain all loss by fire in one incident, up to $1000. From that point the re-insuring company will carry the loss to the $10,000 mark. This insurance was accepted by the indemnity exchange at the last meeting.

A letter of thanks was read by D. W. Pahl, who was in a street car auto accident in Berkeley some time ago, and whose claim was handled by the club. Mr. and Mrs. Pahl are Santa Ana people who are temporarily residing in Berkeley.

ANTIMONY KINGS OF CHINA SUFFER

Market for Metal Collapses and Oriental 'El Dorado' Fades as Wealth Center

HANKOW, China.—Antimony prices have collapsed and scores of Chinese who were millionaires on paper a few months ago are now computing their liabilities.

The demand for antimony was so keen early in the war and the supply was so limited that prices soared. Many new mines were opened and reduction plants were built. Hunan province is the greatest antimony producing center of the world, and Changsha is the center through which most of the ore is handled.

That city became a regular 'El Dorado'. Fortunes were made overnight, and could command from firms that required the metal to harden shell cases for the various armies.

At one time antimony in crude smelted form commanded over $800 gold per ton. Speculators predicted the ore would bring $1500 a ton and acted on that prediction.

But the metal trade suddenly readjusted. The output of antimony, which is used only in very limited quantities by ammunition makers, exceeded the supply. Ore which at one time sold in New York at 50 cents gold a pound has dropped to 15 cents gold per pound, and the wind has gone out of the sails of the Changsha boosters.

Many of the antimony producers now have ore on the way from Changsha to New York, which is mortgaged to bankers for more than the present market price of the metal.

Within the last few weeks antimony producers in the Changsha district have organized an association for the purpose of steadying the market by limiting the output. They predict that they will be able to restore prices to their highest level within a short time, but as yet have produced no appreciable effect on the market.

FOUR-YEAR-OLD BOY TALKS FOR FIRST TIME

CHICAGO—"Mamma."

In a faint and plaintive voice four-year-old Thomas Barker spoke the first word of his life recently to the mother who had signed papers absolving from all blame the physician who performed on her boy's brain an operation, so delicate the chances were a thousand to one he would die. Suffering from water on the brain, which had enlarged his skull to almost twice the normal size, the boy's case was given up as hopeless. Finally the parents agreed to an operation by Dr. H. J. Millstone, the attending physician. Without administering an anesthetic, the physician tapped the boy's skull.

For the first time in his life Thomas talked to his mother, and ate and smiled like other boys. From time to time the drawing off of water will be continued.

JUST ONE WEEK FROM TOMORROW THE GREAT CONTEST WILL CLOSE

Tomorrow Will Be Another Big Vote Day In Contest—Surprises May Be Expected and Many Scores Will Go Rocketing—Be Sure That Your Position Is Protected.

Only a Few Contestants Show Gains Today; No Changes In Positions Made—Rainy Weather Kept Many From Reporting.

FREE COUPONS

After tomorrow, Saturday, October 7, no more coupons "good for 10 votes" will be printed in the paper. All coupons must be turned in before 10 a. m. Thursday, October 12, as no coupons will be counted after that date.

Tomorrow evening will witness another period in the big contest—the last climax before the final count one week from tomorrow.

The $2.50 cash bonus offer ends at 6 o'clock tomorrow evening and undoubtedly most of the contestants will be on hand with one or more clubs of five new yearly subscriptions.

The best thing about the cash bonus offer is that there is no competition in it. For every club of five new yearly subscriptions, we will pay $2.50 in cash. Of course fractions of a year—that is, three months and six months subscriptions—to the equivalent of a year, will be counted as one yearly.

Every candidate in the contest has done well, and it is simply a case of which ones do the most between now and the finish.

Work is What Counts
Work is the essence of the present situation and it is up to each contestant to do his or her best, and may the best workers win.

Perhaps the leader of today will hold the lead to the end. Perhaps not. Somebody away down toward the bottom today is likely to show a wonderful gain in the next few days.

Let the other persons do the slowing up. You keep at the work and determine to beat the field.

Spend more time getting votes than figuring the list and you will find you won't have to worry when the final list appears.

If you are ever so far in the lead for the prize you are striving for, you can't afford to relax at this critical stage of the contest.

"I can and I will," should be the slogan of every contestant who aspires to a prize, large or small.

While the rain has kept many contestants from reporting today, they are no doubt hustling for votes between showers.

Watch for some big gains tomorrow and make sure you are one among those who will add to their scores.

Several who had planned trips to the country and surrounding towns for today have postponed them on account of the rain.

The judges who will conduct the counting of the ballots at the end of the contest have been chosen and their names will be printed tomorrow.

There are no changes in the positions of contestants today and the comparatively light vote gains would indicate that most of the contestants are holding back for tomorrow.

Notice to Subscribers

Several contestants have told the Contest Editor that it will be impossible for them to call on all those who have promised their support, between now and the close of the contest.

Those who wish to favor any contestant with their subscription and who find it inconvenient to call at the Register office, may mail their remittance; the votes will then be credited to the contestant designated, and a receipt mailed to the subscriber.

TRIVIAL OFFENSES STARTED MEN ON LONG SENTENCES

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 5.—Twenty years in prison because of a five-cent bet in a crap game.

Lifetime in prison because a hat didn't fit.

The above are but two of the freak cases why men are spending their days in the Ohio penitentiary, according to a report made today by Berdell Officer Robert Miles.

The twenty-year man was convicted of manslaughter after killing a man who refused to "fade" five cents in a crap game. In the second, the salesman said the hat fitted, the patron said it did not. In the quarrel the patron shot and killed the hatter.

Some of the other freaks: Four robbers facing one to twenty years for looting 97 cents and three street car tickets.

One manslaughter convict killed a man because he refused to shut a door, thus to keep a draft off the slayer.

The creditor said the debt was $5, the debtor said $4. The debtor was dead, the creditor is serving a life sentence. More than a score are in for drawing and using knives, mostly in trivial quarrels.

Several burglars are doing weary stretches for the sake of booty not worth the cost of the pay of a good day's shoveling.

ZEPPELIN TALK IS GIVEN BY MONTAGUE

LONDON.—Lord Montague recently addressed a meeting organized by the Navy League in support of the campaign for a more vigorous air policy. Since the beginning of the war, he stated, the Royal Naval Air service had been increased by forty times, and the Royal Flying Corps had also been augmented. The time had arrived when the air service should be capable of independent action, and when both the Royal Naval Air Service and the Royal Flying Corps should be placed under one united control as an imperial air service.

Farther North Than Any

Continuing, Lord Montague remarked that the last Zeppelin raid was farther north than any which had hitherto taken place. They are, he said, gradually creeping up the coast northward. Everybody, he added, knows why. There is no secret about it. Part of our fleet is in proximity to Cromarty firth and part is farther north. Everybody knows that, including the Germans. I was told by a friend of mine who lives in Aberdeenshire that they came close to where he is living the other day. Perhaps some of these Zeppelins miscalculated the mileage and the petrol in their tanks, because there is no doubt that the Zeppelin which was wrecked off the coast of Norway ran short of fuel and was brought down. Another had not the power to get high enough and suffered the same fate. But we must not trust in that, because all these flights now are largely matters of experiment. The Zeppelins are being built at a rate, probably as far as we can make out, of one a fortnight, or twenty-six a year, and the Germans are not losing them at the same rate.

There is another point—Zeppelins are becoming more perfect. The one which was wrecked off the coast of Norway the other day, I am informed, had six engines—one more than any Zeppelin had hitherto been known to possess. They are also much longer, and they are carrying a greater supply of fuel; so that, although we were lucky recently in having three destroyed, you must not go away with the idea that Zeppelins are a thing of the past; they are only just beginning.

Rigid Airship Patrol

The whole way from the coast of Denmark to the coast of Holland the Germans, Lord Montague said, had a constant patrol of rigid airships, able to stop in the air for at least two days, and he believed more, able to see over a horizon measured by, say, seventy or eighty miles, instead of seven or eight, in the case of a destroyer, and able thereby to inform the German fleet about the movements of the British fleet. The British had no such rigid airships.

The maximum height at which a Zeppelin could come over to England, laden with bombs was probably between 6000 feet and 7000 feet. It might be 8000 feet in certain conditions of weather. But as soon as it had discharged its bombs it could attain a much greater height—probably somewhere about 10,000 feet.

The proper place to stop the Zeppelin was when it left Germany. It was then at its lowest point and stuffed with bombs, and if they happened to hit one of the bombs the Zeppelin would be no more.

'GREAT STONE FACE' IN DANGER OF BEING DESTROYED. IS FEAR

CONCORD, N. H.—"The Old Man of the Mountain," as the profile rock in Franconia Notch has been known for years, is losing its head, and Governor Roland H. Spaulding and his council are considering means of repairing the loss.

Because of the wearing of winter storms, it is feared the forehead of "The Great Stone Face," immortalized by Nathaniel Hawthorne, will topple over and carry with it the nose and chin.

A buckle arrangement to bind the face firmly together is proposed.

BISHOP LOSES HIS 'GOAT' WHEN PRESENTED CUP

far the money would go and what results would be obtained from the judicious expenditure of the proceeds derived from the sale of the bonds.

Presented Bronze Loving Cup

At the conclusion of Mr. Shaw's address to the boardmaster in a few well-chosen words introduced the guest of honor.

"Why honor Clyde Bishop any more than any other man?" Mr. Bishop asked gruffly, and then proceeded to happily answer his own question, giving the best reasons for so doing and demonstrating to the entire satisfaction of every one present that such a prophet "is not without honor even in his own county." At the conclusion of Bishop's little talk he presented the city attorney with a handsome bronze loving cup from the members of the Newport Harbor Commission, upon which was engraved: "To the Hon. Clyde Bishop from the Newport Harbor Association as a token of their appreciation of his untiring and unselfish achievements for the development of Newport Harbor."

Bishop Loses, Regains "Goat"

It took about two verses of "He's a Jolly Good Fellow" before Bishop found his voice and regained his "goat" which the unexpected presentation had for the moment robbed him of. But when he did get going he made up for lost time. He accused really as if he thought the whole affair was a surprise, but he said: "I like it."

Mr. Bishop with characteristic eloquence spoke of the many difficulties and obstacles which have stood in the way of harbor making, of the false hopes which were shattered, of discouragements and delays that were unavoidable and the final crowning of years of tireless effort and endeavor with the laurels of success.

"We've started going in the right direction at last," said Attorney Bishop, "and we are going to keep on our way. Next Monday evening the Board of Trustees of this city will pass a resolution offering the bonds for sale and by the first of January we'll be dumping rock to build our jetty and by the next January the work will be completed. We must stay behind what we have started," he said in conclusion, "when the time comes Orange county will help us in the work. We have laid the foundation for a City, a Harbor and Success."

FOOTBALL GAME 'TURKEY-DAY' TO BE WITH POMONA

The great "Turkey-Day" football game will be played between Santa Ana and Pomona this year, was the statement of Prof. E. H. McMath this morning. Two games have been arranged for, one this year and one to be played next year. As yet the place of this year's game has not been decided. That this will be a hot contest is the general opinion of every one who knows Southern California football. The Pomona team has its last year coach, and practically the same team as it had at that time. They are looked to as being among the strongest contenders for the championship. Santa Ana is not over confident of success, but is playing on good nerve and leadership to make it one of the closest contests ever fought on the southern gridirons.

BIBLE WINE PASSAGE NO ALIBI FOR TIPSY MAN WHO DRANK BEER

NEW YORK—An inebriated individual stood like the Leaning Tower of Pisa, swaying a bit in the wind, at the busiest corner in Dobbs Ferry, N. Y. Capt. Patrick Costello of the local police took him by the arm.

"My friend, lemme read to you," said the illuminated one. He drew from his pocket a Bible, and stuttered through the quotation from 1 Timothy 2:3:

"Drink no longer water, but use a little wine for thy stomach's sake and thine often infirmities."

"That sounds all right," said the captain. "But what have you been drinking?"

"Beer," replied the Scripture-quoting.

"Then you've got no alibi and you're pinched," retorted Costello. The prisoner said his name was John Haisch of 250 Bowery, this city. He went to sleep in a cell with his Bible for a pillow.

SOFIA, Oct. 6.—Reports here today claim that of the 15,000 Rumanian troops which crossed the Danube in the recent invasion of Bulgaria not one remains on Bulgarian soil. IN THE JUSTICE COURT

ARTICLES STOLEN AT THE HOSPITAL ARE FOUND IN JAIL

Warrants are Issued For Man Whose Checks are Reported Bad

When Ralph Kelly, prisoner, was brought back to jail from the County Hospital, where he had been taken while ill, the jailer found that he had three handkerchiefs, a pocketknife and two neckties that he did not have when he went to the hospital.

That is why Kelly is going to have to stand trial on a charge of petty larceny.

Franco Aurita of Westminster was at the hospital for about a month while in charge of his nephew, a boy who was taken to the hospital because he was a diphtheria carrier. When he got ready to leave, Aurita found that he was missing the articles afterward found in Kelly's possession, and also a diamond stickpin.

Kelly denied taking the stickpin. He intimated that it was taken by another prisoner who was also at the hospital for treatment. The stickpin has not been found.

Bad Check Charges
C. C. Forbes is the name given by a man who was at Westminster and for whom two warrants are out. At Westminster Forbes was taken to be a man with some property, and some of the stores did not hesitate about taking his checks. O. J. Day has sworn to two complaints, one charging Forbes with giving him a bad check for $9.88 and the other for a bad check of $48.37.

BENCH WARRANT IS OUT FOR CHASTAIN

William L. Chastain has developed an independent streak, but he may also develop a humility streak before he gets through with Judge West.

Chastain brought suit for divorce, and his wife replied with an attempt to get alimony pending the trial. Chastain and his attorney, W. E. Ferguson of Los Angeles, told the court that Chastain would be in court any time Ferguson was notified.

Attorney Bishop for Mrs. Chastain prepared to take the case up this morning, and Ferguson was notified. He later reported that his client had refused to take his advice, and would not go to court this morning.

A bench warrant was issued for Chastain for contempt of court.

FOR CALIFORNIA DRY

Some of the strongest arguments in favor of prohibition made this year have come from Catholic priests and bishops. Here in California Rev. Father M. J. Whyte of Sunnyvale is giving all the time he can spare from the duties of his parish to presenting the prohibition cause. In Montana Bishop J. P. Carroll and Bishop Mathias C. Lenihan are furnishing arguments for prohibition which are being used not in Montana alone, but throughout the nation.

"By taking the pledge," writes Bishop Carroll, "the individual prohibits the use of intoxicating liquors to himself; by passing a prohibition law the community bars the use of intoxicating drinks to itself."

Prohibition Community Right
"The community has as much right to take the pledge as the individual. The minority who do not agree with the law do not suffer from it, because intoxicating drink is merely a luxury which does not promote their wealth, their health or their happiness."

"Medical science has demonstrated that alcohol taken internally is neither food nor medicine; daily experience shows that it is the most prolific source of poverty and misery. The pleasure the moderate drinker derives from its use can justly be subordinated to the general happiness and well-being of the community."

"The Catholic Church is in favor of every good measure which aims at the elimination of the evils of intemperance. Wherever, therefore, the people in their wisdom declare prohibition to be the most practical method of dealing with such evils, prohibition cannot but have her blessing upon it."

"Many of the states have recently thrown off the yoke of the liquor power because it pressed too heavily on their dearest interests, social, moral and political. It is sometimes asserted that prohibition must be national to be thoroughly effective. Prohibitionists admit there is truth in the statement, but hold that the most effective national prohibition, like woman suffrage, will be that won state by state."

Bishop Lenihan's Endorsement
Writing to Ransom Cooper of Great Falls, Mont., Bishop Lenihan as strongly urges the advantage of prohibition.

"Although the Catholic Church," writes Bishop Lenihan, "has at all times and in all places advocated Christian temperance as one of the four cardinal virtues, still she has not promulgated any formal declaration or canonical pronouncement on the subject of prohibition."

"For thirty-seven years, since I was ordained to the priesthood, I have preached Christian temperance and have administered the total abstinence pledge to young and old, but especially to the children until they would be twenty-five years of age, when it is supposed that one's character is formed. Now, what total abstinence is to the individual, prohibition is to society in general to the commonwealth."

"Those who advocate prohibition are messengers of peace and patriotism and are fighting a bloodless battle for humanity."

It has been pointed out what the wets understand very well, and what the dries fail to appreciate, that if California goes dry this year the booze question will be pretty thoroughly settled in these United States.

The wets throughout the country are watching the California situation closely. They have gone far toward financing a campaign for the wets as the abundance of literature sent to Californians direct from booze headquarters in Eastern cities bears evidence.

One of the amusing features of the campaign is the assumption on the part of the wets that the people outside of California who stand for clean conditions have as much political sagacity as themselves.

Wets Make Guesses

Recognizing the situation in California as most important the wets assume that their opponents outside the state see it as clearly as they do. Following up this assumption with another they assume that because the wets outside California have come to the financial relief of the wets inside California, that the dries outside California have shown the same judgment and have sent in as much support to the dries as the outside wets have sent in to the wets.

The dries are fighting not for California alone but for the whole nation. If California goes dry this year, as there is very good prospect that it will, the clean-up of the rest of the country will be comparatively easy.

JILTED AUSTRIAN, SAID TO BE COUNT, DRINKS POISON

PORTLAND, Ore.—Disappointed in love, a young Austrian, who said he was Count Ludwig Graf Aichelburg, committed suicide taking a powerful poison. Aichelburg had been working on a dredge since he came to Portland a few weeks ago. He said he had formerly been employed in San Diego as a stableman for John D. Spreckles.

According to his story he was an officer in the Austrian army, but deserted shortly after the war broke out. After he swallowed the poison he asked that his sweetheart be notified by telephone. He died before her name was learned by the police. He was about 27 years old.

WOMAN DOWNS MAN WHO SHOT HER SON

NEW YORK—Saberio Areno, 40, a laborer of No. 506 East Thirteenth street, was chatting with his mother in front of his home when Joseph Ricca, 29, a pianomaker of No. 277 East Thirteenth street, came up and started an argument.

As Areno shook his head to indicate violent disagreement Ricca pulled a revolver from his pocket and fired. Areno probably saved his life by shaking his head, as the bullet only cut his scalp and deflected downward, lodging in the left leg of three-year-old Peter Piospach of No. 501 East Thirteenth street, standing behind him.

Ricca ran east on Thirteenth street. Areno's mother gave chase, overtook him within half a block, wrested the gun from him and sat on him until a policeman came.

Ricca was locked up and Areno and someone seeing a crowd sent in a riot call. Reserves were sent on the run, but after dispersing the crowd, found nothing to do.

HIGH SCHOOL ENROLLMENT

The enrollment to date at the Polytechnic High School is 703, which, according to a statement made by Prof. McMath this morning is just about the same as it was last year at this time. The Junior College shows a gain of 28 over last year, as the present enrollment totals 55.
